

OAS Strikes Radio Station

... After De Gaulle Speech

Algiers (AP) — The terrorist Secret Army widened its "scorched earth" campaign in Algeria Friday and launched a swift bazooka attack on a radio station that carried an optimistic speech by President de Gaulle from Paris.

The hit-and-run bazooka attack left the fifth-floor studios of Radio Algiers heavily damaged just after De Gaulle had hailed a new Algeria and predicted that in 23 days its people will have instituted their independence through a self-determination referendum.

The Secret Army terrorists who seek to block independence are "criminal madmen," De Gaulle said.

"In 23 days, the Algerian problem in its substance will be resolved for France," De Gaulle said. "Algeria will determine its own future. Algeria and France will be able to cooperate organically and regularly with each other. The Algerians of European stock will have the necessary guarantees to participate, in full freedom, in full equality and in full brotherhood, in the life of the new Algeria. This is what France will have wanted and obtained."

The Secret Army attack came as an announcer was reading an evening news summary.

Screams, Gunfire
Listeners heard screams and what sounded like gunfire. Someone in the studio shouted "No, no," and the station went off the air. It was back on in two minutes with recorded classical music.

Police said later at least one person in the studio had been wounded.

The terrorists launched their attack by slipping past a tough guard unit of professional French gendarmes stationed at the new Radio Algiers Building on the heights overlooking Algiers.

Forty minutes after the attack, the station resumed its regular programming with a drama. It gave no explanation to its listeners for the upset in the broadcasting schedule.

Girl Killed As Curve Missed

Nenzel, Neb. (UPI) — Madonna Rose Belsky, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Belsky of rural Nenzel, was killed Friday evening when the pickup truck in which she was riding missed a curve and overturned a mile west of here on US 20.

Nenzel is 30 miles west of Valentine.

The State Safety Patrol said the truck was driven by Eileen Michele Arnold, 16, Nenzel. Investigating officers said the vehicle was attempting a left turn from US 20 onto a country road a mile west of here when it overturned and wound up in a ditch.

Also in the vehicle were Margaret Jean Arnold, 14, Edward Arnold, 13, and his twin sister, Sharon, Virginia Arnold, 11 and William Pourier, 11, all of Nenzel.

All were hospitalized at Valentine for treatment. The girls were later released but Edward Arnold and William Pourier, were held overnight for observation.

The death raised the Nebraska traffic fatality count for the year to 120, compared with 133 a year ago.

Wheat Price Set At $2.10

The minimum price-support rate for 1962-crop wheat in Lancaster County has been set at $2.10 per bushel, Dale E. Nelson, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, said Friday.

The price is well above the county support rate of $1.91 per bushel for the 1961 wheat crop. The 1962 rate is based on the national average support price of $2 per bushel in the 39-state commercial wheat-producing area.

13th Nuclear Test Set Off Over Pacific

Washington (AP) — The United States exploded its 13th air-dropped nuclear device in the atmosphere above the Pacific testing arena Friday.

The explosion was described as in the intermediate yield range, as have been most of the 15 shots since the tests were started April 25. This covers the explosive equivalent of from 20,000 to 1 million tons of TNT.

The Atomic Energy Commission and the Defense Department announced that the test was conducted near Christmas Island at about 7 a.m.

Except for air drops there have been only two other announced tests there. One was a Polaris missile firing and the other was described as an underwater test, presumably a mine of some type.

Lincoln Man Dies As Home Burns

A Lincoln man, Vern Schoenthal of 1445 So. 1st, was dead on arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital early Saturday morning after suffering burns when he apparently was trapped inside his house as the structure was gutted by fire.

Schoenthal was home alone, firemen said, when his wife returned from visiting friends and noticed smoke rolling from the house.

When she was unable to enter the house she went to neighbors to call the fire department. Schoenthal was found lying behind a sofa, and firemen said he apparently had tried to get out of the house.

An 18-month-old baby of the couple was being cared for by a neighbor when the fire broke out.

NU Dean Urges More Active Role In Politics

The American citizen does not satisfy his obligation in the political affairs of his country by merely casting a vote.

The point was made Friday by Dr. Adam Breckenridge, dean of faculties at the University of Nebraska, at the University's first annual Alumni College.

The professor of political science said that we cannot permit ourselves to say that we have no interest in politics and that we are willing to let it go by default to those who are occasionally too eager to run things for us.

"In the eyes of the world, our ideas of government are still on trial, their ultimate validity unproved," he said. "To many, our system is still an experiment, and I suspect that we should be proud to call it an experiment."

Need Participation
In calling for intelligent participation in government, Dr. Breckenridge explained that even though we have not set up penalties for not voting or rewards for voting, we know that our democratic society cannot survive if we do not participate.

Dr. Breckenridge asked that citizens guide themselves by understanding and learning in 4 areas. He listed these guidelines:

—Understanding our system of government and the underlying principles;

—Knowledge of ideologies and governmental systems of other countries and the economic and social conditions;

—Knowledge of the communist position historically, at present and, where possible, in the future;

—Some comprehension of the social, economic, and international problems which face the free world and how our government may participate and how we can participate with our government;

—Knowledge of the political processes through which democracy expresses itself — nominations, elections, parties, pressure groups and the citizen's relation to them.

Public Service
"We very much need to bring oncoming generations to believe that public service is an honorable profession," he said. "We need to take some of our time to help counter the vacuum often created in our growing metropolitan areas."

In an address earlier in the day Dr. Dudley Bailey, director of freshman English at the University of Nebraska, attacked some of the stale philosophy of teaching English grammar.

He said it was fair to say that nearly all school grammar which developed in the last 200 years has been "scissors and paste pot jobs of Bishop Lowth's old grammar."

'Dumped Words'

English Bishop Robert Lowth was the culprit, who in 1762, "dumped the Latin words out of a Latin book of grammar and stuck English words in their place," he said. "In short, Lowth's grammar proceeded from the assumption that English and Latin were somehow the same sort of language and the result has been a great number of troubles."

NU Research Aide Dies In New Mexico

Charles Falkenbach, a noted paleontologist who had done field work in Nebraska each summer for the last 30 years, died in Santa Fe, N.M., Friday.

Mr. Falkenbach, who worked closely with Dr. C. Bertrand Schultz director of the University of Nebraska State Museum had retired from Frick Laboratories of the American Museum of Natural History in New York City.

"The loss of Charles Falkenbach is a personal one to the University of Nebraska and to the state of Nebraska. His contributions to vertebrate paleontology and geology in Nebraska will be lasting," Dr. Schultz said.

Mr. Falkenbach began collecting in Nebraska 35 years ago and had returned to Nebraska every year for the past 30 years. He was a research associate at the University of Nebraska.

He was an outstanding field man in paleontology, and particularly laboratory and field work, Dr. Schultz noted. Both Dr. Schultz and Mr. Falkenbach are leading authorities on the oreodont, a prehistoric vertebrate.

Services will be Monday at Espanola, N.M.

TED KENNEDY WINS

Demos Back Senate Bid

McCormack Will Also Run

Springfield, Mass. (AP) — Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, youngest brother of the President, early Saturday won the endorsement of the Democratic state convention to run for the U.S. Senate from Massachusetts.

He defeated State Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack Jr., son of U.S. House Speaker, John W. McCormack, who announced immediately he will challenge the convention choice in the September primary.

A few minutes later, Kennedy told the delegates that they had spoken "with a free voice . . . a clear voice . . . and the great number of hundreds of thousands of Massachusetts Democrats will speak next September as you did here tonight."

A Great Pleasure
Kennedy was accompanied to the platform by his blonde wife Joan, who also thanked the convention and said it had been "a great pleasure to meet so many of you in the last few months in this campaign."

Runaway Victory
With them on the platform was Kennedy's brother-in-law, Stephen Smith, husband of Kennedy's sister Jean.

McCormack conceded the nomination at about the halfway point in the balloting when Kennedy was heading for a runaway victory.

In Washington, a White House spokesman said President Kennedy would have no comment on his younger brother's convention victory. A White House aide had checked on the progress of the convention voting earlier

Clouds Are Expected Over State

Some Areas Still Hampered By Water

Partly cloudy skies and scattered thundershowers are forecast for most of the state Saturday, with highs in the 70s.

Lincoln will have occasional drizzle with a high of 70 to 75. Rains tapered off in Nebraska Friday, but there were still numerous points where backed-up water was overflowing low areas.

Large areas of Lexington were under water Friday after 1.20 inches of additional rain brought the total since May 17 to 12.13 inches.

A report from Lexington said water was running out of fields and down State Highway 21 northwest of the city. Small creeks overflowed.

An estimated 10 square blocks in the northeast part of town, some 7 square blocks in the southwest and about 4 blocks in the northwest were affected.

In some places in Lexington manhole covers in the streets were lifted off by geyers. Numerous homes reported water in basements.

At one place in northwest Lexington water flowed into a sandpit until it overflowed.

Overflow continued on the North Fork, and Elkhorn Rivers and Logan Creek in northeast Nebraska, and on the North Loup River and Dane Creek at Ord.

Possible damage to Hardbrook Diversion Dam of the North Loup River Power and Irrigation District could not be assessed until the levels go back to normal.

Several county roads were damaged in the Smithfield and Elwood areas. An unofficial measurement of 8.80 inches of rain was reported north of Elwood since last Saturday.

Lincoln and Omaha had the state high of 77 Friday. The low was 41 at Chadron. Lincoln had a low of 62.

Girls Will Be Girls If Some Act As Boys

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau
Clatonia — Girls will be girls, even if it means having to be boys.

Now, to understand that bit of nonsense first requires knowledge that the 20 members of Clatonia Happy Sewers 4-H Club are — naturally — all feminine. It further calls for the observation that, between learning to stitch and bake, a lady loves learning to dance.

So came into being Mrs. Dora Schachenmeyer's masculine-clad square dancers.

Several of the 4-H'ers will be featured June 15 at the square dance expected to attract several hundred persons at the Beatrice Homestead Centennial. The Break and Swing Club of Beatrice, with Jerry Davison as president, is hosting the free evening affair.

How do you get 1962 girls to stick to 1862 dancing? "We don't," replied Mrs. Schachenmeyer. "They also do other numbers, like the Mexican hat dance — and you ought to see them twist!"

Discharged Ag Man Took Money Orders From Estes

Washington (AP) — An ousted Agriculture Department employee testified Friday he and an aide received $400 from Billie Sol Estes and used it to buy Democratic dinner tickets for the now indicted Texas financier.

James T. Ralph, onetime assistant secretary of agriculture, told the House Intergovernmental Relations subcommittee that two $100 money orders were sent to him and two to his aide, William E. Morris, early this year. Ralph said there was no accompanying letter from Estes, whose multimillion-dollar empire collapsed when he was indicted on fraud charges last March.

Outside the hearings, reporters were told by the subcommittee's discharged Republican counsel that Estes sent money orders to many congressmen and at least one high administration official.

The lawyer, Robert E. Manuel, was fired as the subcommittee's minority counsel Thursday for releasing a confidential Agriculture Department report dealing with Estes to a newspaper reporter before subcommittee members had read it.

Manuel told reporters Morris had the list of names of the money order recipients and the subcommittee is trying to get it. Morris is scheduled to follow Ralph on the witness stand.

Ralph and Morris both were dismissed last month by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, Ralph for using Estes' credit card to make personal long distance calls and Morris for refusing to tell superiors about his relations with Estes. Morris is appealing his discharge.

Both were demoted by Freeman in February, for reasons apparently unconnected with the Estes case.

Tickets Sent To Estes
Ralph testified that when he and Morris received the money orders he asked Morris what they were for and his assistant expressed belief they were for tickets to the $100-a-plate Democratic fund-raising dinner marking the first anniversary of President Kennedy's inauguration.

Accordingly, Ralph said, he endorsed his two money orders to the California and National Democratic Executive Committees and sent Morris to National Committee Headquarters to purchase 4 dinner tickets. These were sent to Estes, Ralph said.

Ralph added "because I didn't like this sort of thing, I had my assistant write a memorandum to the secretary about it," meaning Secretary Freeman.

Ralph testified that Morris contacted Estes after the Democratic dinner and told the Texan Ralph had been embarrassed by receipt of the $100 money orders.

"Estes said he didn't know he had sent me one," Ralph said Morris told him. "He told Morris he didn't think my name was on the list."

Ralph added he has no personal knowledge of anyone, other than himself and Morris, who received money orders from Estes.

Asked about Ralph's statement that he had reported the money order to Freeman, Thomas R. Hughes, executive secretary to Freeman, told a reporter:

"We have absolutely no evidence of any memorandum to this effect being received by the secretary's office."

Studio Fires Marilyn From 'Something's Got To Give'

From News Dispatches
Hollywood—Buxom, blonde Marilyn Monroe was fired from her new movie Friday and replaced by willowy blonde Lee Remick.

The 20th Century-Fox studio sacked its leading glamour girl after repeated delays in the filming of "Something's Got To Give." She had not appeared for work since last week.

Miss Remick, who never has gained the reputation for sex appeal amassed by the unemployed Miss Monroe, was brought in as a last-minute substitution.

Miss Remick, a native of Boston, was notified of her new role by United Press International.

In a burst of candor, she said: "I feel Marilyn should have been replaced. I don't believe actors should be allowed to get away with that kind of behavior. The movie business is crumbling down around our ears partly because of that kind of behavior."

After filing a $500,000 breach-of-contract suit against Miss Monroe in superior court a statement was released by Peter Levathes, executive vice president of the movie company. It said:

"No justification was given by Miss Monroe for her failure to report for photography on many occasions. The studio has suffered losses through these absences and the 20th Century-Fox film company has commenced legal action."

A spokesman said shooting could begin with the new star as early as Monday.

The studio complained it had shot all the scenes it could without Miss Monroe. But a Monroe spokesman counted that the real trouble lay in an incomplete script. To this the studio insisted that Miss Monroe insisted on rewriting the dialog.

A studio source said Miss Monroe's absences already had cost them $2 million. Twentieth says it lost $25 million last year, a big portion of it on the film "Cleopatra" and the absenteeism of its star, Elizabeth Taylor.

in the night but apparently did not know that McCormack had conceded until a newsman called.

"There will be no comment tonight," he said.

Massachusetts Republicans gather in Worcester a week from Saturday to select their primary choices.

Leading candidates for the senatorial nomination are George Cabot Lodge, son of Henry Cabot Lodge and Congressman Laurence Curtis.

691 To 360
As McCormack came to the platform 24 districts had been polled and Kennedy had 601 votes to 360 for McCormack.

McCormack had carried only two districts, neither by much margin.

It was 12:25 a.m., when McCormack was presented by the convention chairman, Sen. John F. Powers.

McCormack was cheered wildly and after a minute of the applause he asked:

"With this enthusiasm, how did I lose?"
McCormack said he wanted his name withdrawn: "I will now take my case to the people."

That means McCormack will enter the September primary against Kennedy.

"I want to thank all those who had the courage to stand up and be counted in my behalf," he said.

When McCormack withdrew the hall was crowded with delegates. Many had left their seats earlier to seek cooler air outside the crowded building.

Soviet Threatens To Halt East Berlin Escapes

WEST IS DIRECTLY ACCUSED

... Called Provocators

By STANLEY JOHNSON
Moscow (P) — The Soviet Union, apparently stung by continued spectacular escapes of East Germans from communist East Berlin, threatened Friday to step directly into the explosive Berlin situation.

The Russians accused the Western powers of provoking incidents along the Berlin wall and declared they will not permit West Berlin to continue as a base for what they called revenge seekers and militarists.

The statement — strongest the Russians have made recently on Berlin — was contained in notes to the United States, Britain and France.

The statement picked out a number of incidents along the East-West Berlin border without mentioning that most of the trouble involved East German guards firing on escaping refugees.

K. and Ulbricht Confer
The notes were delivered after Premier Khrushchev conferred Thursday with East German communist boss Walter Ulbricht.

Western diplomats here said the notes clearly implied the Soviet Union might bolster East German forces in the Berlin area with its own troops.

They said this was not so much a matter of tactical necessity as of confronting the Western powers with the threat of a direct conflict with the Russians instead of East Germany.

Russia's note to Britain, released by the Tass news agency, declared in reference to the border incidents:

"It is absolutely obvious that such actions could not have taken place at all if the British and other occupation organs in West Berlin did not encourage the provocators."

On the basis of preliminary accounts, U.S. officials in Washington saw the note as a tough-sounding propaganda blast. These officials privately described the note as an effort to cover up brutal shootings by East German police or refugees trying to escape to freedom.

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White declined official comment, however, until the full text is received.

Hijack Crew Rams E. Berlin Excursion Boat To Freedom

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD

Berlin (P) — A hijack crew led by the ship's cook knocked out the captain with liquor and a blow on the head and rammed an East Berlin excursion boat to freedom Friday amid a barrage of machine gun bullets.

Fourteen refugees, including a 14-month-old baby, scrambled ashore unhurt after the 386-ton vessel slammed across the River Spree into a canal bank in the American sector.

"Pinch me so I realize I'm alive and out of communism," shouted the cook, 22-year-old Joerg Lindner, after the perilous and spectacular dash.

The white double-deck boat was riddled by more than 200 bullets fired by East German guards as it swung off course and churned up a wake at top speed toward the West.

West Berlin police fired at least 10 shots at East Berlin guards when communist bullets began ripping into apartment houses on the Western side.

With Lindner on the escape boat Friedrich Wolf were 7 men and 5 women, among them Lindner's 17-year-old girl friend Jutta and her baby.

Thursday night Lindner and the steward, Dieter, who wants to keep his last name secret, decided to make another try.

The Friedrich Wolf, named for a communist poet, was being overhauled at Treptow pier on the Spree in readiness for the opening of the river boat season this weekend.

Two mechanics came to work on the vessel. They asked where the Western border was and were told it was only two miles downstream.

"We immediately thought they wanted to flee, but they could have been plants by the police, too," Lindner said. "Boldly, fully realizing that our fate hinged on the reliability of the two, I filled them in our plan. They joined the plot."

The plotters poured most of 4 bottles of brandy, a bottle of wine and 12 pints of beer into the captain and engineer, but only pretended to drink themselves.

The intoxicated pair were then locked in their cabins. The other men and the women came aboard at 4:30 a.m. The bridge was fortified with steel plates, two experienced helmsmen took the wheel and the 725-passenger boat cast off.

As the boat sailed down the stream in early morning light it was challenged by an East German police boat. But the hijackers had a story ready.

The helmsmen explained they were bound for Osthafen, just opposite the American sector, to pick up new generators.

The helmsmen carried out the preliminary maneuvers for a starboard turn, then suddenly swung in the other direction and headed at top 10-knot speed for the canal entrance on the West Berlin side.

"The Vopos immediately began firing from all over the place," said Lindner.

Miraculously no one was hit.

"We were fed up with conditions in a communist country and wanted to get away," said Lindner. "For the last week I dreamed about it every night — now it is a dream come true."

After the shooting stopped, someone went back on board and freed the captain and engineer. Within 10 minutes the boat was on its way back to East Berlin.

Beaver Again Heads Masonic Manor Board

Omaha (P) — John E. Beaver of Columbus was re-elected president of the board of the Omaha Masonic Manor or Friday as the board met to open bids for sub-contracts on the apartment project. Other officers re-elected are Elmer E. Magee, Lincoln, vice president; and Carl R. Greisen, Omaha, secretary.

The general contract was awarded some months ago to Rorick Construction Co., to erect the building at 52nd and Leavenworth Streets.

—LAOS— Princely Summit Adjourns ... Over Weekend

Khang Khay, Laos (P) — The 3 feuding princes of Laos encountered sudden delay Friday after a fast start on forming a coalition government for the embattled Southeast Asia kingdom. Distribution of Cabinet posts appeared to be causing trouble.

Neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma, backed by both the United States and the Soviet Union to head a coalition, announced the princely summit meeting decided to adjourn until Monday.

Ask For Time Out
"One or two unsettled points obliged us to postpone the meeting," he said, "and each party has demanded time for reflection."

Souvanna said one question still to be settled is who will represent a Vientiane group of neutrals in the coalition.

Neutrals in Vientiane, the administrative capital, back the pro-Western government of Premier Prince Boun Oum, but do not side with either the Eastern or Western blocs internationally.

Souvanna was red-faced after a half-hour afternoon meeting with Boun Oum and Souvanna's half-brother, Prince Souphanouvong, whose pro-Communist Pathet Lao guerrillas control two-thirds of the country.

Ford Opposes Any Attempt To Break Up GM

Chicago (UPI) — Henry Ford II, chairman of Ford Motor Co., said Friday he is against any attempt to break up General Motors, Ford's chief competitor.

"We have big government — big labor — so why not have big business?" Ford said at a news conference.

Ford said he felt labor is so big it should be brought under anti-trust prohibitions so "the division of power will become more equal."

He said the auto industry is headed for the second greatest year in its history, second only to the boom year of 1955.

Norman Thomas Joins In Opening Socialist Pow Wow

... It's Now An Enfeebled Party Of 10,000

Washington (P) — Norman Thomas joined jovially Friday in opening a 3-day national convention of the Socialist Party he nurtured in America for so many years.

No wadays it is a party that frankly admits it doesn't have over 10,000 paid-up members, but says it still has an important mission "to keep Socialist ideas before the public."

It has given up "presently at least," according to National Chairman Darlington Hoopes, the idea of running a candidate for president.

Thomas, the 77-year-old elder statesman of his party who ran 6 times for president, said he's a conformist in one respect: He "retired at 70" from active part in the party's governing councils.

He said he doesn't want to be "hanging on" like German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and French President Charles de Gaulle.

But his name still is what draws attention to the doings of this convention, where about 100 delegates are expected to prepare a platform and take some action on a reported message from the Communist Party in America on mutual relations.

With dry humor, Thomas presided at a news conference.

He sharply criticized the Senate for doing the United States what he called very great harm by its vote to ban any aid to communist or Marxist countries.

Jokingly, he commented that he doubts whether some senators can tell which countries are Marxist. Some of them "very stupidly" label President Kennedy a Marxist, he said with a grin.

More seriously, Thomas said there is need for aid on a humanitarian and political basis. He said such aid has been effective in keeping Yugoslavia from joining the Warsaw Pact.

Sidewalks, Signs And Sunday

By VIRGIL FALLOON

The City Council apparently may be wrestling for some weeks to come with a trio of "S" ordinances — sidewalk parking, signs and Saturday-Sunday closing. Interest groups want the first two off the books or modified, while the third is being pushed on by others.

If considered from the viewpoint of special or individual interests, all three have knotty problems. At least the council is succeeding in tying itself in knots over the issues. However, most could be quickly untied if all three ordinances were approached with the over-all interests of the general public and community in mind. One of the basic foundations of constitutional government is the promotion of the general welfare.

With Lincoln's growing traffic and parking problems, encroachments into the public sidewalk space adjoining business property became more acute. Two years ago, the council rightfully enacted an ordinance requiring curb-like barriers to physically enforce a long-standing prohibition against parking, driving or business uses on the sidewalk space.

With the advent of the protective barriers, some of the loudest howls came from service stations which have also been some of the worst offenders. They contend the barriers are a hazard to motorists driving up to the pump island closest to the sidewalk, but want to ignore that the same vehicle, unless controlled, is also a hazard to the pedestrians. The council should stand firm in requiring the barriers to prevent vehicular encroachments into the sidewalk space.

Also on the books in the interest of safety and welfare is an ordinance prohibiting revolving beacon lights and signs with brilliant flashes of light. These were held to be confusing and distracting to motorists in some areas and a public nuisance to residential property owners in others. The advertising sign industry and some businessmen have protested the ordinance and have proposed amending measures. The main stream of their argument is that the council is taking away vested rights and attempting to unreasonably regulate their business interests.

However, the council is again on solid ground if it continues to approach sign regulations with the interests of the whole community in mind. Admittedly, the various flashing and jumping light gimmicks are designed to attract attention for long distances and catch the eye of the traveling public.

But, there comes a point where the public interests for safe travel and quiet use of residential property are being transcended by the sign industry's claimed rights to design and sell bigger and more brilliantly lighted signs.

Several years ago, the council repealed a Sabbath closing ordinance that had been on the books for years. Its demise was prompted both by difficulty of enforcement and court decisions affecting its constitutionality. Recently, the Lincoln Food Retailers Association proposed an ordinance purporting to protect the grocery trade against a 7-day week. The council rejected the proposal which would have affected other businesses. Merchandise items so overlap in the various business endeavors that it is virtually impossible to draft an enforceable ordinance based on prohibitions against certain categories of merchandise.

Another but reportedly more sophisticated ordinance is apparently headed for council consideration. It should meet the same fate. In an attempt to permit drug stores to remain open but close other stores, for example, the ordinance reportedly would prohibit the sale of cameras seven days a week but not film. Most drug stores carry both. Thus, a drug store would have to quit stocking cameras or close one day. It could also pose a law-enforcement problem. Imagine a police officer attempting to keep a drug store, remaining open to sell non-prohibited items, from "boot-legging" an occasional camera along with the legitimate sale of a bottle of aspirin.

Another Departure

The University of Nebraska has lost the fourth eminent scholar and faculty member in recent weeks. The latest was History Professor Stanley R. Ross. He has accepted a department chairmanship at a New York state university.

All of the departing educators are improving their professional position by leaving and all of them are bettering their economic position. In their farewell comments they have ranged from being sharply critical of Nebraska to sympathetic. But they are agreed on one thing. They believe the state legislature has dealt badly with its chief educational institution and has seriously harmed it. Thoughtful Nebraskans will not dismiss their remarks lightly for while eminent professors may rid themselves of the Nebraska problem by going elsewhere Nebraska must live and pay the price for crippling itself. It will continue

Iowa's New Judicial System

Iowa voters have approved a constitutional amendment providing for a change in the selection of the state's trial and appellate judges. It became the sixth state to withdraw in great part from the time honored practice of selecting judges by popular vote. The others are Missouri, Alabama, California, Kansas and Alaska.

Nebraska is looking favorably on such a change.

The six states which have embraced the change, vary in the details by which they are practicing it, but not in the essential principle. New bench vacancies are filled by appointment, generally after study and approval of the candidates by the bar association or some other body with special competence in measuring the capacities of candidates. But tenure is not withdrawn from the popular will. After the appointive term the new judge must stand for popular election. If he is sustained he continues on the bench. If not he is succeeded by a new appointee.

Obviously the plan draws its merit from a screening process tending to eliminate the popular but unfit judge, assuring a continuum of professional competence.

A devoted believer in the full democratic process will point out that the change follows a questionable tendency to substitute democracy with something originally alien

Jack Whitney Aims Word Gun At JFK

WASHINGTON—Jack Whitney, publisher of the New York Herald Tribune, is really enjoying his feud with the White House. And he has a "secret weapon" which he says he will import to Washington to get even with John F. Kennedy for canceling those 22 subscriptions to his newspaper.

Whitney, who married the ex-wife of Congressman James Roosevelt and was a $62,000 contributor to Eisenhower's 1956 campaign, has come back from being Ike's ambassador to the court of St. James to take active supervision of the No. 1 Republican newspaper of New York. And he now plans to transfer Art Buchwald, caustic columnist on Europe, from Paris to Washington.

Buchwald is coming to Washington this month to look for a house, and should be settled in the nation's capital with his typewriter leveled at the Kennedy administration by September.

During the Eisenhower administration, Buchwald's description of Jim Hagerty's operation in Paris caused Jim to blow his top. Whitney now intends to test the "top-blowing level, not only of Pierre Salinger but of the President.

A classic political test—whether it's better politics to represent the moneyed interests or the workingman—will be decided in the heart of the old confederacy when South Carolina goes to the polls next week.

On one side is a senior member of the U.S. Senate, Olin Johnson, who began life as a worker in a cotton mill and whom the late Gov. Max Gardner of North Carolina cited during the war as an example of what we were fighting for—the right of the son of a workingman to rise to the top.

On the other side is Gov. Ernest Hollings, bright, young, acid-tongued, with an unabashed record of battling against labor.

Political observers all over the country can take a cue from the South Carolina outcome to see whether the candidate of labor or management has the greatest voter appeal.

No two men could be more unlike than Hollings and Johnson. Gov. Hollings is the businessman's candidate, talks the part and dresses the part. He is just as much at home in the clubs along Wall Street as on the hustings of South Carolina, probably more so. He is also quite at home during the cocktail hour, and some of his critics in the drier portions of South Carolina have been critical of this.

In any event, his kind of talk has pleased the tycoons, especially in Texas, and they have been pumping television money into his campaign.

Senator Johnson, in contrast, is portly and courtly, speaks with a slow southern drawl, loves ham, serves hominy grits for breakfast every day of his life, never takes a drink, and once brought screams from the breweries because he got cheap postal rates for temperance organizations.

Splinter Groups Posing Problem To Party Regulars

WASHINGTON—A vengeful and essentially Balkan or French type of splinter-group politics is offering prospective perils to the responsible electoral system in significant areas of this country.

The emergence in November's elections of a politics of no compromise and no forgiveness, of rule or ruin by a bitter minority, is now a clear possibility in California, in Texas, and in Utah.

Extremism on the Republican right already menaces Richard Nixon's candidacy for governor of California and may well menace Wallace Bennett's candidacy in Utah for re-election to the United States Senate.

Extremism on the Democratic far left threatens the candidacy of John B. Connally for governor of Texas.

But much more than the fortunes of these three men are involved. Involved, too, is an assault, intentional or not, on the very institution of the two-party system and on the whole concept of majority rule.

For the minority extremists in California and Texas are suggesting, in effect, that though they lost in open contest in their own parties' primaries they may reject the majority verdicts of their own parties and apply intellectual blackmail to the party associates who beat them fair and square.

By DON WALTON

A year ago this week the Legislature brought LB 642 to the floor for full debate and consideration.

What was LB 642? It would enroll Nebraska in the Kerr - Mills plan to provide medical care for the aged.

Passage of the bill would qualify the state for an estimated $2.5 million in federal funds per biennium. Cost to the state: $1.9 million every two years, a sum to be provided by a later amendment boosting the head tax by $2 per person.

Two bucks; that is, 4 cents a week. Now, what would LB 642 do?

It would provide hospital and surgical benefits to persons over 65 whose incomes do not exceed $125 a month per individual or $175 monthly for a couple.

It would entitle those aged persons to payments for hospital care exceeding $50 in any 6-month period and payments for surgery exceeding $25 per month in the same period.

There are 150,000 persons over 65 in the state.

Testimony a year ago indicated that approximately 17,000 Nebraskans over 65 can meet ordinary needs, but they would be severely pressed financially in the event of a medical emergency.

This bill received support from the Nebraska Medical Assn., the Nebraska Hospital Assn., the Nebraska Nursing Home Assn., and insurance industry representatives.

Okay, here was a bill which would cost Nebraskans two bucks apiece a year, a bill which would attract federal assistance, a bill designed to help the needy aged and the needy aged, a bill actively supported by the medical fraternity and private insurance spokesmen.

So, what do you suppose happened to it?

First it was killed by the Labor and Public Welfare Committee. Then, a year ago this week, it was revived for a full-scale debate.

Then it barely survived a kill motion (19-20) and was advanced from general file. And then it was killed 23-20.

Why was it killed? Why? Well, it was "socialism," they said.

And, en route to killing the measure, a few state senators toyed with the bill, adding burdensome and costly amendments which would ultimately make the legislation easier to destroy. Easier to shove aside.

Now, comes before the Congress the King-Anderson medical care bill which would finance the program through Social Security, limiting its coverage to those (rich and poor) under the Social Security system. It would cost an estimated $12 per person per year.

Nebraska's 6-member congressional delegation is solidly and vigorously opposed to the bill.

Why? Why? Well, it is "socialism," they say— and, to boot, "a cruel hoax" on the American people, especially cruel to our poor, misled senior citizens.

The demonstrated concern of Nebraska's elected state and national representatives for our senior citizens moves us greatly. How kind they have been! How responsive to the needs of those in need!

And, in answering their cry for help, our elected representatives have also rescued the aged from this all-encompassing, fearful dread danger of socialism. How noble! How kind! How compassionate!

How come? The 17,000 Nebraskans over 65 who need help do not compose a very large lobby, or even a very loud one—for, you see, some of them can't even talk.

They didn't fill the halls of the Statehouse last year to plead their case—for, you see, some of them cannot walk.

Many of them do not even know the issue was raised—for some of them cannot hear or see.

And many of them do not care—for, you see, some of them have lost hope. Some of them have decided, way deep down inside where it really hurts, that no one cares about them, that they have been pushed aside—to die.

We think it would be nice for some of our elected representatives to go visit a hospital, a nursing home or even the tiny house where a sick old man lives alone.

Go tell them how brave you have been to stand up against the evil forces of socialism, how you have protected them from this hoax, how you have served them.

Go look at age and sickness combined — and tell them how you helped.

Walk up to a sick old man who worked all his life to support his family, who saw his savings eaten by inflation and shrunken by the rising cost of living, who saw the bright hope of an expanded life span transformed into long illness which consumed both the money and the man.

Look into his hollow, tired, pale face and tell him he's on his own. Tell him.

Your

High Rents

Lincoln, Neb.

Why is rent so high? Landlords must think everyone is a millionaire, to charge as they do. It surely isn't because of the Air Base, Portland, Oregon, has one and their rents are much cheaper. A two-bedroom furnished house with washer and garbage disposal in a good neighborhood rents for $65 a month there. In Lincoln one can't even get an unfurnished two-bedroom apartment in any kind of neighborhood for less than $75. At least I have never seen any.

And furthermore, if there is a decent apartment at a decent price in a decent neighborhood, they won't allow children.

No wonder a lot of children become delinquent. Their parents can't afford to live in good neighborhoods because the rent is too high or no children are allowed.

How much longer must people be forced to pay through the nose for some rat trap of an apartment and why aren't there some sort of laws pertaining to rent prices? If there was some way to keep these prices down, I wouldn't mind living in Lincoln.

ANGRY RENTER

The Causes

Lincoln, Neb.
The recent report by J. Edgar Hoover that juvenile crime is on the increase is very disturbing but the causes are not very hard to find.

We are destroying many ideals on which our country was founded. Patriotism has become obsolete; loyalty is a dirty word. Why should a citizen not be proud to proclaim his loyalty to country?

We have overworked the phrase "academic freedom." All freedoms must be nurtured and developed until the individual is mature enough to use his freedoms wisely. Otherwise, this freedom is mistaken for license, which leads to trouble.

Publishing pornographic literature has become big business while fuzzy thinkers are harping on the dangers of "Censorship." They would sacrifice the morals of our youth rather than crack down on the purveyors of filth.

As long as Americans tolerate the breakdown of our moral fiber, our slide into the communist orbit will continue.

English Authority Explains Perfect Secretary Format

NEW YORK — "If women weren't so emotional, they'd be streaks ahead of men in the business world," said possibly the best authority on women in business today. "Business has no time for emotions."

Mrs. Margery Hurst is British. She runs and owns the largest international secretarial agency in the world.

"Really, all this talk about the perfect girl. An employer would fire her in a week. If she didn't have some failings (like those emotions, which keep the female sex from taking over the world) he couldn't live up to her—he'd be a guilt-ridden wreck."

What does it take to be a nearly-perfect secretary?

"First, she must have tact and understanding so that she can mediate between her boss and his staff. This is a quality that no training can give a girl. It is something she has or she hasn't; either she's human or she's an automaton."

"She should have a good knowledge of English and preferably a second language, French. She must know math, have a good head for figures, even if her job is not involved with bookkeeping."

"The tip-top secretary should have not only the 'formal skills' (shorthand, typing) but also the 'informal skills'—the ability and eagerness to learn all about her boss' business. She should have a tidy mind, rather than a great memory; in fact a good memory is dangerous, because it should never be trusted. Details should be put down on paper immediately. She should dress conservatively.

"Last, she should have a nice voice. A pleasant way of speaking."

Mrs. Hurst claims to have many thousands of these "tip-tops" on call by her agency, which now has 48 branches in England, Australia and (as of three months ago) the U.S. She has 300 interviewers "on staff" who see more than 100,000 secretaries a year. When qualified girls come along, she places them in positions in whatever country they want to go to.

For example, if a top American secretary wants to vacation for a few months in England, Mrs. Hurst finds her the job which will pay for her expenses. She calls the system a "working holiday" plan. She has placed thousands of English girls in American positions.

She believes, frankly, that British girls are faster at typing and shorthand than American girls ("it must be the training") but American girls seem able to take on more responsibility.

But all secretaries seem to do better work when they are moved into a country that is not their own.

Sound Feet Allow Better Times In Those Later Years

By ROBERT PETERSON
It's gratifying to see older people striding with firm, vital pace enjoying the delights of personal locomotion. But it's a rather rare sight because foot troubles plague millions of folks past 40.
Poor feet prevent them from getting necessary exercise. They limit socializing and sightseeing. They cause fatigue and pain. And they are often at the root of the lament, "It's no fun to grow old."
The blame ordinarily rests with the individual. Instead of wearing shoes conforming to the exact shapes and peculiarities of his feet, he often forces the bones, cartilage, and muscles into the confines of whatever mass-produced shoe he happens to buy. You can get away with this if your feet are uniform and free of bunions and other irregularities. But few are this lucky.
My mother is in her late 70's and has had foot trouble for years. When I asked recently why she didn't have some shoes individually made she said she had no idea where one got such shoes, adding that even if she did they would probably look a fright and cost a mint.
So I checked and discovered to my surprise that there are dozens of reputable firms around the nation which build shoes by hand to the exact contours of one's feet. Not only do they resemble ordinary footwear but they usually cost only about one-half more than one pays for a pair of good shoes.

How does one go about having shoes individually made? "Just have your podiatrist or a shoemaker prepare a plaster mold of your feet—and then have a qualified shoemaker build shoes to your exact fit," said fourth-generation shoemaker Joseph Burger when I visited his Bronx, N.Y., shoemaking plant which also houses his rare collection of 400 pair of shoes dating from 1,350 B.C.
"Everything can be handled by mail. You select shoe styles from a catalogue, and the shoemaker keeps the molds on file so you can reorder whenever you wish."
Will individually made shoes insure freedom from foot discomfort? "Very often," he replied. "Of course if you're having trouble you should first have your feet examined and treated for any difficulties which may be amenable to medical treatment.

After that you should begin wearing shoes built to the contours of your feet and which offer the support necessary to carry your weight with a minimum of fatigue."
What about the appearance of custom made shoes? "It's only with a severely deformed foot that the appearance of a shoe must be greatly altered. In most cases, individually made shoes can be built following current styles and so attractively that they are not discernible from ordinary footwear."
I suspect most people will agree there are few things which contribute more to satisfaction as we grow older than healthy feet which permit us to walk, trot, shuffle, dance, and run without the slightest pain or discomfort. Knowing this we should pamper our feet and make sure they are a continuing rather than a diminishing source of pleasure as we grow older.

Lincoln Methodist Churches List Six Pastoral Changes

Six Lincoln Methodist churches will have new pastors as a result of the appointments announced Friday by Bishop Kenneth Copeland.

A former McCook district superintendent of the Methodist Church in Nebraska, the Rev. John W. Ekwall of Seward, will enter the pulpit at Wesley Park Methodist Church, replacing the Rev. Clare VanMetre who has been assigned to the congregation at Emerald, Nebr.

Assigned to Asbury Methodist has been Lynn Lee, a layman, who has been teaching at the Nebraska Vocational-Technical School at Milford. Lee will be replacing the Rev. James McBride who has been assigned to Roca.

At Bryan Memorial Methodist the Rev. Ed Kezar of Golden, Colorado, will assume the pulpit of the Rev. Richard Lingard, who has received appointment to Pawnee City.

The Rev. Marvin Reubensamen will arrive in mid-July from the Perkins School of Theology in Dallas to take over as associate pastor at Christ Methodist, replacing the Rev. Samuel J. Hemphill

Moderates Gain At Methodist Meeting

By WOODY HOWE
Star Staff Writer

Moderate forces in the Nebraska Methodist Conference won a triple victory Friday.

Having approved the recommendations of a study committee on communism in the National Council of Churches, recommendations which emerged considerably softened, the conference told to committee to study ways to "counter right-wing and fascist elements in our society."

The conference also backtracked and struck out a recommendation that had been formally approved earlier. The recommendation seemed to some to imply criticism of the council.

The conference voted down another recommendation which, if accepted, would have effectively silenced the National Council on matters with political and economic ramifications.

Value Up On Tangibles In Perkins Co.

Perkins County reported to the state tax commissioner Friday that the total valuation of its tangible property this year is $61,951,070, an increase of $428,155 over the amount reported last year.

Of the first 5 counties reporting, only Perkins and Cedar Counties have reported increases in tangible property valuations. Their gains have offset the losses reported by Thomas, McPherson and Hooker Counties, however.

Perkins reported an increase in its Class A intangibles (cash, book accounts, etc.), but a decrease in its Class B intangibles (stocks and bonds).

Reporting only the intangible tax, rather than the valuation, Perkins listed its Class A intangible tax at $8,996 this year, compared with $8,468 last year, and its Class B intangibles at $5,685 for 1962, as against $7,661 in 1961.

NYAF Approves 5 Candidates

The Nebraska Young Americans for Freedom have endorsed 5 Republican candidates for state and national office.

They include Fred Seaton, governor; Dwight Burney, lieutenant governor; Ralph Beermann, First District, Congress; Glenn Cunningham, Second District, Congress, and Dave Martin, Third District, Congress.

"We believe that this is one of the best slates of candidates offered the people of Nebraska in many years," the organization declared.

Air Director Sees Service To Columbus

State Aeronautics Director James Sandstedt said Friday he expects that within 30 days the Civil Aeronautics Board will direct Frontier Airlines to provide Columbus with air service.

Columbus was scheduled to get air service on Frontier's northern Nebraska route, but its airport facilities were not completed before the airline stopped serving the route.

Sandstedt said the type of service and scheduling Columbus would receive would be up to Frontier, but added it seems unlikely it would be part of the airline's central route.

Cities along that route — Omaha, Lincoln, Grand Island, North Platte and Scottsbluff — are against the idea. Frontier President Lewis Dymond has also said he doesn't think it would be a good idea because another stop would downgrade the route.

Columbus officials reportedly don't like the idea of having to go to Omaha by the way of Lincoln, either.

Sandstedt said he thought service to Columbus probably would come in the extension of an existing route, possibly an extension of the Denver, Sidney to North Platte run into Columbus and Omaha.

ment and that it not aid communism. It now reads: "That the councils of churches continue their action and pronouncements which support good government, deplore atheistic communism and promote Christian unity."

Those who felt that some individuals within the National Council of Churches had been too liberal toward communism were successful in getting these resolutions approved.

—That the councils of churches always inform their member churches of actions or contemplated actions before release to public press, remembering that they speak to as well as for their members.

—That all officials and others in high places of authority and responsibility connected with the councils of churches guard against making statements as individuals which could be construed as an official opinion of the councils of churches.

Greater Effort
—That greater effort should be made to publicize "the many fine Christian activities" of the Council.

In a close vote, the conference gave a mandate to the 16-man study committee to continue another year. This too was considered a victory for moderate factions.

Bishop Kenneth W. Copeland insisted the conference does not believe the council to be communist infiltrated. "I am tired of such labels," he said.

The conference's actions increase, rather than diminish, Nebraska Methodists' support of the National Council, he maintained.

The conference earlier had approved recommendations urging continued support for the council so long as it seemed representative of the will of its members and did not take a "soft" stand on communism.

It was not an investigation, the bishop said, merely a citizen's study.

Oregon Man Sentenced To 3 Years For Theft
William R. Hughes, 45, of Portland, Ore., was sentenced Friday by Lancaster District Judge Elmer Scheele to 3 years in the State Penitentiary on an auto theft charge.

Hughes had pleaded guilty to the charge on May 21 in connection with the May 17 theft of an auto belonging to a Lincoln man.

San Francisco (P)—A superior court judge Friday upheld the contention of an un-rocketed Roman Catholic priest that he is not the father of a fourth daughter born to his wife in Long Island, N.Y.

The case involves the ex-priest, Walter A. Ryan, 52, and his wife, Mrs. Alive Ryan, 41, of Glen Head, N.Y.

She filed suit in March for $2.3 million damages against the Catholic Church, declaring Church officials abducted Ryan and kept him from her against his will.

Ryan denied the Church had anything to do with the breakup of their 1950 marriage, which took place when he was a parish priest in New York.

When Ryan was found in San Francisco after Mrs. Ryan's suit, she sued for support money for 4 daughters. Ryan retorted he was not the father of the fourth, now 5 years old.

Mrs. Ryan's 13-page affidavit was read in court Friday to Judge Joseph Karesh. It said that in May 1956, Ryan visited her at her Fort Salogo home, and that during this brief visit, the fourth child was conceived.

Ryan testified Friday: "I have never returned to New York state since I left in April, 1955."

Asked if he was kidnapped by church authorities, he said "that is false."

Other witnesses testified they were positive that Ryan was in San Francisco through the month of May 1956, despite Mrs. Ryan's affidavit.

At the conclusion of the hearing Judge Karesh stated: "From the overwhelming evidence, the court finds that it cannot, under the law, award support to the fourth child."

Does Divorce Cure Problem?

Divorce solves nothing and evades everything. In its wake are to be found heartache, loneliness, and a feeling of personal failure. As a cure, it is worse than the sickness.

I contend that there are no two people in the world who cannot live together in reasonable harmony if they really try. Yet today, in the United States, there are 15 million men and women who are divorced.

Divorce only seems to be the "answer" because more people are doing it. Which only means that more people aren't giving their marriages a fair shake.

The mere fact that you're considering a divorce makes it more likely to happen. It's too easy. Put it out of your mind. Never threaten your spouse with divorce. Even if it's the last thing he wants, pride may trigger it into reality.

But there are cases where action is necessary.

DEAR ABBY:
My husband can't seem to make up his mind as to whether I'm a football or a punching bag. He belts me around for no good reason at all, and usually I can't go anywhere until my eye, nose or leg heals up. Last week I finally had to go to a rented room with two black eyes. Then he cooled off, called me up and said he wanted to bury the hatchet. Should I go back to him?

Sparring Partner
A cruel and terrible-tempered man like this may need a psychiatrist. But even in this case, drastic steps can be taken which are still short of the finality of divorce. There is no need for "Sparring Partner" to go back to her husband until she knows where he wants to "bury the hatchet." Although a child needs a father, he also needs a living mother. So separation—living apart for a while—is in order.

If divorce makes little sense with respect to adults, it makes less sense when children are involved. At least 4 million American youngsters, under 18, will be affected by divorce this year. They are the innocent, and yet they suffer the most. I hope your child will never have to write a letter like this one:

DEAR ABBY:
Please print this in your column for people who are considering divorce. The biggest heartache of my life came when my parents parted. I loved my Daddy so much but never got to see him except for a few hours now and then. If my parents had been in business and the going got rough they would have worked extra hard to save the business. Yet they didn't save their marriage because they didn't really try. Because of that, I grew up without a Daddy. I missed him, especially at my confirmation, graduation and wedding.

My parents are both nice people, but they didn't have the backbone to save our home. Why do parents bring children into the home and then make half-orphans out of them? I would make lots of sacrifices before I'd hurt my child the way I was hurt.

Mrs. Married For Keeps
Your children didn't ask to be brought into this world. But as long as you invited them, don't wreck it for them.

(Condensed from the book "Dear Abby On Marriage.")

Lightning Bolt Killed Reeves

Lusk, Wyo. (UPI)—Funeral services will be held here Saturday afternoon for John Reeves, 65, who was struck by lightning Wednesday while herding sheep on his ranch near Andrews, Neb.

Reeves was killed by the lightning bolt about 4 p.m., but his body was not found until about 9 p.m.

Andrews is south and east of Harrison, Neb.

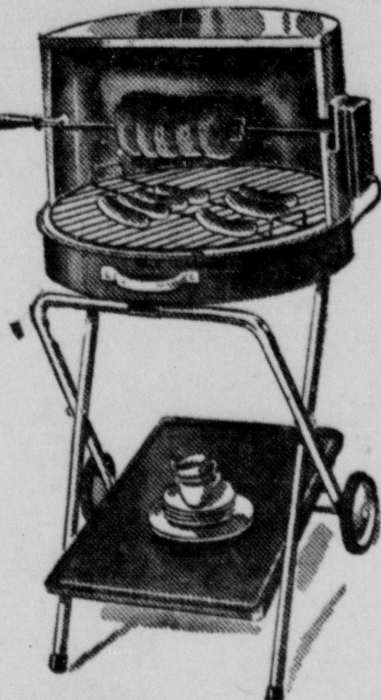

More Sonic Booms Due Over Nebraska

Omaha (AP)—The Strategic Air Command said Friday some Nebraskans can expect to hear more sonic booms next week when super-sonic B58 bombers fly over the state.

The planes are scheduled to make runs between Pratt, Kan., and Grand Island from 2 to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday, and between Plainview, Tex., and Omaha from 8 to 10 p.m. Thursday and Friday.

Attractive Girls Chose Early June For Weddings

Lighted candles in brass candelabra, and arrangements of yellow and white daisies formed the background for the wedding of Miss Suzanne Savage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Warren Savage of Lincoln, and Joe Max Treece son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer A. Treece of Bragg City, Mo., which took place on Tuesday evening, June 5, in the A. P. Green Chapel on the University of Missouri campus. The Rev. Eldon Drennan solemnized the 8:30 o'clock ceremony, and William C. Bedford played the wedding music.

Miss Mary Martha Smith of Ardmore, Okla., as the maid of honor and only attendant, appeared in a sleeveless sheath in the jonquil yellow shade. Her hair circlet was of illusion and was ornamented with a Dior bow. She carried a basket of yellow roses encircled with yellow and white daisies.

Terry Turlington of Dexter, Mo., served Mr. Treece as best man, and the guests were seated by Robert Munson.

For the ceremony the bride chose an ensemble of white linen and lace in daytime length. Under a lace jacket her sleeveless sheath frock of linen was designed with a rounded neckline patterned with lace. Her illusion veil was held to the head with miniature rosettes, and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses encircled with yellow and white daisies.

Mr. Treece and his bride will reside in Denver, Colo., where the bridegroom is associated with the Denver public schools.

The bride was graduated this week from Christian College, Columbia, Mo. Mr. Treece is a graduate of the University of Missouri.

At a candlelight service solemnized Friday evening, June 8, at Christ Methodist Church, Miss Cora Mae Keller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Keller, became the bride of Norman B. McKinnon, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McKinnon of Tucson, Ariz. The Rev. Nye O. Bond read the lines of the service, and Mrs. F. O. Woodard, organist, played the wedding music and accompanied the vocalist, Miss Cora Haymes.

Frocked in white lace over lime green silk in the daytime mode and carrying colonial nosegays of white carnations were Miss Nancy Keller, who was her sister's maid of honor; the bridesmaids, Miss Cathy Packett, Miss Jean Schafer and Miss Bonnie Stansbury, and the junior bridesmaid, Miss Claire Keller, also a sister of the bride.

Serving as best man was Keith Schmidt, and the ushers were Don Copas, Jack Jensen, Jim Rolofson and Bill Keller, brother of the bride.

The bride's gown of white lace and organza was designed in the period mode. Pearls and crystal beading trimmed the sabrina neckline of the long-sleeved lace bodice, and the very full organza skirt was draped into a back pouf and ended in a whisper train. A crown of jeweled lace held her illusion veil, and she carried white roses in a cascade centered with pink sweetheart roses.

The couple will reside in Lincoln where the bridegroom is a student at Nebraska Wesleyan University, of which the bride, a member of Phi Mu sorority, is a former student.

Married In East

Bouquets of all-white blossoms decorated the candlelight altar of St. Andrew's Church, Episcopal, at Wellesley, Mass., on Tuesday morning, June 5, for the wedding of Miss Nancy Greenamyre, daughter of Mrs. H. G. Greenamyre, and Lloyd Harris Ellis, Jr., son of Mrs. Lloyd Harris Ellis of Hastings. The lines of the 10:30 o'clock service were read by the Rev. Samuel S. Johnson.

Wearing pouf-skirted frocks of embroidered eyelet in jonquil yellow were Miss Jane Greenamyre, who was her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Susan Levine, Hewitt, N.Y., and Miss Kathleen Taylor, Madison, Wis. They carried cascades of white Marguerite daisies.

Henry L. Howell of Atlanta, Ga., served Mr. Ellis as best man, and seating the guests were Jonathan Howe, Litchfield, Conn., and Kipp Charlton, Hastings.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Dr. Joseph McVicker Hunt of Urbana, Ill., the bride wore for her wedding a gown of white, eyelet-embroidered organza. Tiny, embroidered scallops edged the rounded neckline of the basque, which was completed by very full, bell sleeves, and deep tiers of the scalloped organza formed the waltz-length skirt. A circlet of organza and pearls held her brief illusion veil, and she carried a white prayer book ornamented with a single white orchid and showered with stephanotis.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis will reside in Arlington, Va., until October when they will leave for Lorence Marques, Mozambique, East Africa. A graduate of Yale University, where he also received his Masters degree, Mr. Ellis is a foreign service officer with the State Department. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, Yale Debating Club and the Elizabethan Club.

Mrs. Ellis is a June graduate of Wellesley College, Wellesley, Mass., where she is a member of the Shakespeare Society.

Ellen Basoco, Marilyn Kirk, Brides Of Naval Officers

Arrangements of white gladioli and white snapdragons appointed the altar and chancel of the Church of the Holy Trinity, Episcopal, where the wedding of Miss Ellen Doris Basoco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miguel Antonio Basoco, and Ens. William Lee Harvey, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harvey of Omaha, took place on Friday afternoon, June 8. Dr. William Cross solemnized the 4 o'clock ceremony, and the wedding music was played by Myron Roberts.

Wearing alike full-skirted frocks of cloud blue silk-cotton, the attendants were Mrs. Walter Nichols of Iowa City, Iowa, the matron of honor; Miss Janet McVeigh of Herman, the maid of honor, and the bridegroom's sister, Miss Linda Harvey of Omaha, the bridesmaid. Their costumes were completed with hair bandeaus of white taffeta, and each carried a colonial bouquet fashioned of white carnations and accented with delicate puffs of cloud blue satin ribbon. Lt. (jg) Richard Basoco of Washington D.C. served as best man and the ushers included Dale Kirby of Omaha, and Robert A. Basoco.

The bride chose a gown of white taffeta and Alencon lace for her wedding. The briefly-sleeved bodice, designed with a deep portrait neckline contoured with lace in a rose motif, was smoothly sculptured above the extremely bouffant skirt which extended into a chapel train. Her tiered veil of French illusion was held to the head with a small jeweled pillbox hat of white taffeta, and she carried a bouquet of white roses touched with ivy strands.

Following the church parlor reception Ens. Harvey and his bride left for a honeymoon trip to Minnesota after which they will go to San Diego, Calif., where Ens. Harvey is stationed.

The bride attended the University of Nebraska, where she is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority. Ens. Harvey was graduated from the University of Nebraska and is a member of Theta Xi fraternity.

For the wedding of Miss Marilyn Kirk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kirk of Lincoln, and Lt. Norman S. Elliott, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman S. Elliott of Richmond, Va., which took place on Friday evening, June 8, the altar of St. John's chapel in Monterey, Calif., was appointed with candles and arrangements of white roses and gladioli. The 7:30 o'clock candlelight ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Bernard Lofgren.

Mrs. Fletcher Means of San Mateo, Calif., formerly of Lincoln, was the matron of honor, and the maid of honor was Miss Elinore Hoefler of Birmingham, Mich. The attendants wore alike frocks of Riviera blue silk, and completed their costumes with circular, frocked veils. Each carried a crescent of white roses and yellow carnations.

Lt. William K. Ramoser, USN, of Virginia Beach, Va., served as best man and the ushers included brother officers Lt. Girard S. Flannery, Lt. R. T. Mansell, and Lt. T. R. Langley, all of Carmel, Calif.

The bride chose a gown of white peau de soie for her wedding. The bodice, designed with a modified portrait neckline and brief sleeves, was smoothly molded above the bell-shaped skirt which was patterned with appliques of lace and which extended into a cathedral train. A jeweled calot held in place her illusion veil and she carried a cascade of roses centered with white orchids.

Following the reception, held at the Officers Club of the Naval post-graduate school, Lt. Elliott and his bride left for a honeymoon trip to the east coast after which they will reside in Monterey, Calif.

The bride attended Christian College, Columbia, Mo., and was graduated from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority. Lt. Elliott was graduated from the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md.

Service Circles Say 'Goodbye', 'Hello'

BY TISSIE LINSCHIED

Over 200 officers and their guests witnessed the opening night of the OWC Follies last evening. The cast performed in an outstanding manner, and fun and gaiety reigned. The hour and a half show is composed entirely of the members of the Officers Wives Club. The girls have worked hard and special commendation should go to Mrs. Eugene L. Shanan, the director, for her patience and good humor that have made the show such a success. A full house is expected tonight for the final performance.

Maj. and Mrs. Raymond J. Wagner will entertain this evening at their Walker Drive residence with a canape party. Guests will include Col. William E. Bertram, Mrs. Kathryn Harding, Col. and Mrs. Walter F. Duch, Col. and Mrs. William E. Miller, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Gerald Linschied, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Warren Francis, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Harold C. Morrison, Lt. Col. and Mrs. John M. Crook, Maj. and Mrs. Sherman D. Martin, Maj. and Mrs. Russell M. Heller, Capt. and Mrs. Richard McKenzie and Capt. and Mrs. Stanley States. After the canape party the group will then adjourn to the O Club for dinner and the OWC Follies.

Maj. Donald J. Elliott and his five children are very proud this weekend, and for a good reason. Mrs. Elliott is graduating this morning from the University of Nebraska with a Bachelor of Science degree in Vocational Education. Their oldest daughter, Donna, graduated from Lincoln High School last evening.

Capt. and Mrs. Stanley States were hosts last Sunday evening when they entertained with a canape and buffet dinner party at their Michael St. residence. Guests included Lt. Col. and Mrs. Gerald Linschied, Maj. and Mrs. Herbert C. Engelbrecht, Maj. and Mrs. Pierre G. Pollard, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd A. Pollard, Maj. and Mrs. Raymond J. Wagner and Mrs. Bruce Bradfield.

Maj. and Mrs. James O. Sanders entertained at a canape and dinner party last Saturday evening in farewell courtesy to Lt. Col. and Mrs. Charles Dean and Lt. Col. and Mrs. Frederick Marsh. Guests for the evening were Lt. Col. and Mrs. Thomas Powell, W.O. and Mrs. John Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Rod Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. Tyler Ryan.

Last Friday, another farewell party was held in honor of Mrs. Marsh when Mrs. John S. Rogers, Mrs. Willie G. Walker and Mrs. James Sanders were hostesses at a punch party at the home of Mrs. Rogers. Mrs. Marsh was presented a lovely silver tray and "personal presents" by the 10 friends in attendance.

Twenty-five ladies employed at the PX, gathered Thursday night at the Congress Inn for a farewell dinner party in honor of four of their staff who are being transferred. Guests for the evening were Miss Billie Jean Miller, Mrs. Russell McClintock, Mrs. Katie Tyner and Mrs. James C. Blackwell.

Maj. and Mrs. Pierre G. Pollard have as their house guests, Maj. Pollard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd A. Pollard of Kendall, Wis.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Richard G. McAuliffe and their three daughters departed LAFB this morning for their new station, Formosa. Enroute to their destination they will first travel to Chicago to visit relatives and Col. and Mrs. C. Philip Christie, AF RET., formerly stationed here at LAFB. Then they will travel to Grove City, Pa. and visit friends they acquired while stationed at Grove City College, when Col. McAuliffe was Professor of Air Science with the ROTC. After that, on to Albuquerque, N.M., and to Los Angeles where they will visit their immediate families. They will depart from Travis AFB, Calif. on the 9th of July, and will land in Hawaii where they will spend nine days seeing the island and renewing an old acquaintance with Lt. Col. and Mrs. Louis Webber, who were also stationed here at LAFB.

Maj. and Mrs. Howard B. Arnold and their four children are also being transferred. Maj. Arnold is going to a remote assignment at King Salmon, Alaska. Mrs. Arnold and the children will reside in Midland, Tex. until the Major's tour of duty is finished. Before going to Texas, the Arnolds will go to Yellowstone Park for a few days, and to Colorado Springs. They will depart LAFB the latter part of next week.

Several couples are now on leave. Among them are Maj. and Mrs. John Phillips who left yesterday morning for Sumter, S.C. Enroute they will stop at Camp Hills, Pa. to visit Col. and Mrs. Walter Berg, and from there will go to Clifton, N.J. to visit the Major's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Phillips. Then on to Sumter where they will visit Mrs. Phillips' parents. Major Phillips will return to LAFB on July 1 but Mrs. Phillips and the two boys will not return until the first of August.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Donald R. Shilling will leave next Friday for a three week trip that will first take them to Estes Park and to the Grand Canyon, and then on to Youngtown, Ariz. where they will visit Mrs. Shilling's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Nesbit.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Robert Crooks left Thursday morning for Seattle and the Worlds Fair. On their return trip they will visit Canada.

Mrs. E. C. Caudel and children boarded the California Zephyr Wednesday night for Oroville, Calif., to visit Mrs. Caudel's mother, Mrs. Alice Austin. While in California, she will visit friends in San Francisco and Van-

August Bride-Elect

MISS PATSY LOU SCHMIDT

The campus set, especially Delta Gamma circles, will be interested in the announcement made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Schmidt of Cozad, of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Patsy Lou, to Eugene V. Lawhead, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Lawhead, also of Cozad.

The wedding is planned for Sunday, Aug. 19.

Miss Schmidt is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Delta Gamma sorority. Mr. Lawhead attended Nebraska State College at Kearney and is a member of Phi Phi Phi fraternity.

Brides Book

The social calendar has been filled with courtesies the last few weeks honoring a popular June bride-elect, Miss Jan Dyksterhuis, Chi Omega at the University of Nebraska, who will become the bride of Archie R. Clegg of Gothenburg on Sunday, June 24.

Host and hostess at dinner at their home recently were Mr. and Mrs. Philip Cole who entertained members of the family in pre-nuptial courtesy to Miss Dyksterhuis.

The bride-to-be was presented hostess gifts at an afternoon party given recently by Mrs. B. C. Biggs and Mrs. H. G. Greenamyre at the home of Mrs. Biggs. Hostesses at a miscellaneous shower were Miss Mary Kay Coonrad and Miss Kathy Payne.

Miss Dyksterhuis shared honors with Miss Sonja Eriksen, an August bride-elect, at a personal shower for which Miss Mary Drishaus of Beatrice, and Miss Celesta Weise of Jansen, were co-hostesses. The guest list included Chi Omega sorority sisters of the two honees.

Miss Eriksen will become the bride of Loys Mather of Imperial at a late summer wedding.

MRS. DENNIS EVAN WICKERSHAM

At an 8 o'clock ceremony on Friday evening, June 8, the marriage of Miss Janet Lehr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lehr, to Dennis Evan Wickersham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Wickersham of Seward, was solemnized at the Central Christian and Missionary Church. The Rev. Ralph Williams read the lines of the candlelight service, and Miss Mary Beth Helzer played the wedding music. The Rev. Ernest Lott was the vocal soloist.

Miss Judith Lehr, as her sister's maid of honor, and bridesmaids Mrs. Kenneth Mischnick and Mrs. L. Rance Tallent, appeared in alike costumes of white silk organza over yellow taffeta, and carried sheaf bouquets of yellow roses.

Ronald Brauer of Waverly served as best man, and seating the guests were Gerald Lehr of Seward; Jerry Springer of Ulysses, and Ronald Watson of Utica.

The bride appeared in a gown of silk organza over taffeta. Lace, patterned with pearls and crystals, circled the high, rounded neckline of the fitted bodice which was designed with bracelet-length sleeves. The extremely wide skirt, which extended into a chapel train, had an overlay of organza which was ornamented with medallions of lace. A crown of pearls and crystals held in place her tiered veil of illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses.

Upon their return from a honeymoon trip Mr. Wickersham and his bride will reside in Seward.

COUNTRY CLUB TERRACE

New fields to conquer are ahead for Don Pokorny who arrived May 15, for a two weeks visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Pokorny. Don, who has been stationed at the Naval Base at San Diego, Calif., left Friday, June 1, for the Polaris Missile Base at Bainbridge, Md., for further special training.

Several informal family gatherings were held in his honor during his visit at home.

Another interesting item concerning the John Fields and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rowe has come to our attention. Between final exams and summer school, the two couples shared a cabin at Bemidji, Minn., for a holiday of fishing and relaxation. They were away for about six days.

A family get-together was in order when Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hudson and their children, Ann, Gail and Bruce, joined Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hudson for dinner and cards on Memorial Day.

And from Ottawa, Kan., on Sunday, June 3, came Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Smith to be the guests, until Tuesday, of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald M. Smith.

Then we have another interesting item from the Gerald Smiths about their 14-year-old daughter, Susan. It seems that Susan, who is a pupil at Irving Junior High, won medals for second place in both twirling and advanced twirling at the National Baton Twirling Association contest held recently in Omaha. We understand that twirlers from Iowa, South Dakota, Kansas and Nebraska competed.

Fascinating places and interesting people have filled the days of Mrs. Vance Traphagen for the last three and a half months. Mrs. Traphagen has just returned from a trip that took her, by plane, around the world. The journey began in San Francisco and included such glamorous places as Honolulu, Japan, Thailand, Hong Kong, the Philippines, Indonesia, Bali, Ceylon, Burma, India, the Holy Land, Egypt, Turkey, Greece, Austria and both East and West Germany.

June is the month of birthdays at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Thornton... or at least for birthday parties. On Monday, June 4, Shelley, who was really 12 on May 31, celebrated by inviting five friends to a wiener roast. Her guests were Nancy Brickson, Jody Beck, Kathy Day, Linda Goldberg and Gwen Hlava.

Then, Phyllis Thornton had a party on June 7, just a little ahead of her 4th birthday on the 10th. Joining her for games and ice cream and cake were Lee Chapin Jr., Darrell Leupold, Michael Grant, Jeanine Beck and Nat Weaver. Out of town guests at the party were Nat's cousins, Scott and Mike Holland of Denver, Colo.

INDIAN VILLAGE

We imagine "remember?" was a well-used word Thursday, June 7, when Mrs. William Roberts and Mrs. James McLaughlin entertained at a morning coffee for Mrs. James Allen. Mrs. Allen, a former neighbor of the hostesses and guests, is visiting from Beltsville, Md. There will be other parties, too, we understand before Mrs. Allen leaves on Sunday.

And last week, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Jelinek were host and hostess to Dr. and Mrs. Robert Drier of Las Vegas, Nev. Mr. and Mrs.

Drier arrived on May 29, and accompanied the Jelinek family to a reunion and picnic in Omaha on Memorial Day, where the Driers remained to visit.

The real thrills all seem to be for the young people—and a big one is in store for Lyle Palmer, 9, when he goes with his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Palmer to visit friends in Des Moines, Iowa. The Palmers will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Weible and Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Drannen who will give Lyle his first experience of farm life. Naturally, he is looking forward to riding and all the fun things and animals a farm affords.

And Bob Harms, son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Harms, is entertaining a guest, Jim Drane of Columbia, Mo., who arrived Thursday to spend a few days—to attend Bob's graduation from Southeast High School—and the graduation festivities.

Opening lead — Six of hearts.

When a contract depends on how the opponents' cards are divided, declarer cannot do better than follow the indicated probabilities.

This question of percentages is sometimes simple and sometimes complicated, but unless you're an expert mathematician, you will run into many problems that are difficult to solve. Fortunately, most hands don't present such headaches and most of the percentage plays that do arise can be worked out on a common sense basis.

Look at this hand where South was in three notrump. He won the heart lead in dummy and saw that he had eight sure tricks. He knew that the ninth trick could come from a successful club finesse, and he also knew the ninth trick could be taken in diamonds if that suit was divided 3-3.

South knew enough about probabilities to realize he had a 50% chance of winning the club finesse and only a 36% chance of finding an even division of the diamonds. So at trick two he led a club and finessed. West took the queen with the king and continued hearts and South went down one.

He should have made the contract, of course. It was a case of misapplied knowledge. South's statistics were correct as far as he went, but he didn't go far enough.

After winning the ace of hearts, South should have cashed the A-K of diamonds and then led a diamond to the queen. In the actual case he would have discovered the 3-3 diamond division and his worries would have been over. He could cash nine tricks quickly and not bother with the club finesse.

Let's suppose, though, that the diamonds had not been divided 3-3, which he would have found out when one opponent failed to follow suit. He could then fall back on the club finesse and hope for the best.

This method of play would have given him two chances to make the hand instead of one, and would have raised his prospects of success well beyond 50%.

Abby

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Three weeks after we were married my husband joined the Air Force. He was sent overseas almost immediately and will be gone a year. Before he left he asked his brother to look after me so I wouldn't be lonely. The brother is two years older than my husband and looks and acts enough like him to pass for his twin. I find myself thinking romantically about my brother-in-law. I love my husband and don't want to hurt him. I could close my eyes and think his brother was my husband. What should I do?

ONLY HUMAN
DEAR ONLY: Keep your eyes open. Wide open.

DEAR ABBY: Our son and his young wife have a four-month-old son. They also have a female cat. This animal is allowed the freedom of the house. She is on the chairs, sofa, tables, and even jumps into the baby's crib and sleeps with him at night. I worry that the cat might suffocate the baby. Is there any truth to that? Both parents have had ringworm from this cat.

WORRIED GRAM
DEAR WORRIED: Advise your son to ask his doctor about cats sleeping with babies. Especially a cat which has given both him and his wife "ringworm." If your son doesn't follow through, YOU do it. Your son and his wife appear as though they should be raising cats, not children.

HIS DAY—Our Duty

W elcome to church!... but wait a minute. Have you bothered to invite a friend or a stranger to share the pew at your church? Someone is waiting for your invitation... a business partner... a club member... a neighbor. What sort of church member are you? Do you care enough to invite another to share its blessings with you? Do you get genuine spiritual uplift in the public worship of God's house? You are your brother's keeper. Then, you should want to invite him to God's house. You should long for an opportunity to pray with him. Strength gained through worship in God's house on Sunday fortifies us for the entire week ahead. Then, "Come Let Us Go Into The House Of The Lord." It is His day and our duty.

DID YOU KNOW THIS? IT'S A FACT:
Among people who buy homes today, 60% are second-time buyers.

Anthropologist Edward Wever calls the Arima tribesmen of central Australia "as perfect an example of a Stone Age people as we have."

American Express says its latest travel poll indicates 40 million Americans will spend $23.2 billion on their domestic summer vacations this year.

Last year Californians built 196,000 homes — 22% of the new homes constructed in the United States and two and a half times as many as did New York State.

National anthem of the Sheikdom of Bahrain is only 40 notes long and has no words.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you. Aggie Coach Boils Pay-Back Clause

Austin, Tex. (AP)—Texas A&M coach Tom Chandler, who lost his prize sophomore shortstop to the Baltimore Orioles, wants to make sure his scholarship stick.

"Any scholarship I make with a boy in the future, there's going to be a clause written in it," he said. "He's going to agree that if he signs a professional contract before completing his eligibility that either the ball club that signs the boy or the boy himself will reimburse A&M college for his scholarship."

"I'm going to check with the NCAA to see if it's legal," he added.

Chandler said his loss of David Johnson of San Antonio, who hit .308 last season and hit 6 home runs to cop All-Southwest Conference laurels, is "pretty much a dead issue now. It's the future I'm concerned about."

Johnson was on a full baseball scholarship for two years.

"The least the Baltimore organization could do would be to reimburse A&M college for the amount it cost to keep David on scholarship for two years," he said.

"Why can't the boy give it back? They pay the bonus in one year now under the rules. They cannot spread it out over several years like was done in the past."

Johnson reportedly signed for a $25,000 bonus.

—PALMER TERRIBLE—

Snead Snarles Classic Lead

Clifton, N.J. (AP)—Sam Snead, who has been winning tournaments for a quarter of a century, found a formula of youth in his brass-headed putter Friday and shot into the halfway lead of the $100,000 golf classic with a 36-hole score of 136, eight under par.

He had a 2-stroke lead over the field and 11 over the distressed pretournament favorite, Arnold Palmer.

"I'd like to withdraw and go to Oakmont tonight," said the gloomy Palmer after adding a 74 to a previous 73 over the par 72 Upper Montclair Country Club course.

"But they'd hang me from the nearest tree if I did."

Oakmont, Pa., is the site of the 62nd U.S. Open championship, starting next Thursday.

Snead — just turned 50 — fired a 6-under-par 66 on his second tour of the 7,055-yard

Odds Unsettled For Long Belmont Race

New York (AP)—Four outstanding colts, including the winners of the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, plus 4 others with lesser qualifications will do battle today in the 94th Belmont Stakes.

Usually one, and sometimes two colts dominate the famous 1½ mile event at spacious Belmont Park. But this race, on paper, probably tops them all with its wide open implications.

Seven 3-year-olds had been expected to go post-ward to the tune of "The Sidewalks of New York" at approximately 2:40 p.m.

In addition to Decidedly, the Derby champ; Greek

Money, the Preakness winner; Jaipur and Crimson Satan of the big four, they are Fred W. Hooper's Admiral's Voyage, Frank E. Power's Vimy Ridge and Louis Wolfson's David K.

But racing is full of surprises, and just before they closed the entry box the telephone rang and trainer Tom Waller told a clerk: "I want to enter a horse."

"Who, Prego?" inquired the astonished clerk. Prego ran 15th and last in the Derby, and 11th and last in the Preakness.

"No, I want to enter Folk Dancer, a chestnut gelding by Native Dancer-Almahmoud," replied Waller. "Bobby Ussery is the rider," he added.

That sent everybody scurrying for the record books. Folk Dancer is owned by a New York broker and banker, Maurice Newton, and was obtained at the Saratoga yearling sales for $25,000. Aside from that, his major claim to fame was the fact that his sire won the 1953 Belmont. He has won two races in 10 starts, and earned $8,605.

Odds on the 4 leading contenders for this final jewel in the triple crown are so close the favorite may not be known until post time.

Greek Money, from Donald P. Ross' Brandywine Stable, is a lukewarm 5-2 choice. George D. Widener's Jaipur and Peter W. Salmen, Sr.'s Crimson Satan are both 3-1, with Decidedly, Jr.'s El Peco Ranch next at 7-2.

Owners paid $250 to enter and must add another $1,000 to start. If all go, the pot will gross a record $153,300, the winner taking $109,550.

Folk Dancer, who never has started in the stakes, is listed at 50-1 and could be 100-1. But — what about Sherlock? Last year Carry Back won the Derby and Preakness, and was 9-20 in this scramble. Sherlock galloped home in front, paid $132 for 2, and snatched $104,900 from the record purse of $148,650.

The weatherman promises mostly sunny skies, temperatures in the 80's, and a crowd of 50,000 may turn out. The Belmont will be televised and broadcast nationally (TV 6 & 10) from 2:30-3 p.m.

Bill Hartack, who won the Derby with Decidedly and won the 1960 Belmont with Celtic Ash, will ride the gray California colt Johnny Rotz, who took the Preakness aboard Greek Money and was second in the 1961 Belmont with Globemaster, pilots the Brandywine favorite.

Jaipur, winner of the Jersey Derby when Crimson Satan was disqualified, is to be handled by Willie Shoemaker. Shoe took the Belmont with Gallant Man in 1957 and Sword Dancer in 1959. Manuel Ycaza, the controversial Panamanian who rode Ridan in the bumpy Preakness finish and was nosed out by Greek Money, will be astride Crimson Satan, 1961 champion juvenile.

Dodgers Go Into NL Lead

... SF LOSES

Houston (AP)—Willie Davis' sacrifice fly scored Maury Wills with the winning run in the 13th inning Friday night as the Los Angeles Dodgers moved into first place in the National League with a 4-3 victory over the Houston Colts.

Wills walked to lead off the 13th and then stole second and third before Davis' fly delivered him. The steals were the 31st and 32nd of the year for the fleet Dodger second baseman.

The victory, coupled with the St. Louis Cardinals' triumph over San Francisco, gave the Dodgers a half game edge on the Giants and undisputed possession of the league lead for the first time this season. The Giants had held first place since April 30.

Larry Sherry was the winner in relief. Sherry, who was beaten by Pittsburgh in relief Thursday, came on in the ninth inning when the Colts loaded the bases against Ron Perranoski on an infield hit and two walks. Sherry fanned Carl Warwick to end the inning.

The Dodgers tied the game in the eighth on a pinch-hit home run by Frank Howard. Houston had moved ahead against Dodger starter Sandy Koufax and Ed Roebuck in the sixth on two walks, a wild pitch, and catcher Merritt Ranew's single.

Koufax' 7 strikeouts increased his major league leading total to 132.

Sayers To Enter Coast Title Meets

Omaha (AP)—Roger Sayers of the University of Omaha, the NAIA 100-yard dash champion, will be off to the West Coast next week for a try in the sprint events in two major amateur track meets.

Roger will compete in the NCAA tournament Friday and Saturday at Eugene, Ore. He is entered in the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

Sayers will be in the National AAU Championships at Walnut, Calif., June 22-23.

Hot Dog! Casey's Club Ain't Dead

Ends Drought, 4-3 Over Cubs ... BUT LOSE SECOND TILT

Chicago (AP)—The victory-starved New York Mets snapped a 17-game losing streak with a 4-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs Friday but dropped the second game of the doubleheader 3-2.

The second game was called because of darkness in the last of the eighth.

Charley Neal's sacrifice fly in the ninth inning chased home an unearned run and gave the Mets their first taste of victory since May 20 when they defeated Milwaukee twice.

Righthander Jay Hook, who halted a 9-game losing streak early in the season, was the starter and winner for New York although Craig Anderson worked the ninth inning. Hook (4-6) has defeated the Cubs 3 times this year.

Jim Hickman led off the ninth with a single and the Mets loaded the bases with none out as the Cubs botched a pair of sacrifice bunts before Neal delivered his game-winning blow.

New York erased a 1-0 Chicago lead in the third inning on run-scoring singles by Hook and Elbio Chacon. They made it 3-1 in the fourth on a pair of singles and a sacrifice fly by Hickman.

The Cubs tied it in the seventh on Ron Santo's eighth home run, a two-run into the left center field bleachers.

Santo's two-run single in the seventh inning proved to be the winning hit in the nightcap. The Mets scored in the first inning on a single by Chacon, a stolen base and a single by Neal. The Cubs tied it in the fourth on George Altman's run-scoring single.

Met starter Bob Miller had a two-hitter going into the seventh when the Cubs loaded the bases on a double by Lou Brock and pair of walks.

New York (AP)—The New York Yankees hopped on knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm for the game's only run in the 8th inning and beat Baltimore 1-0 Friday night for their 3rd straight shutout victory.

Right-hander Jim Coates blanked the Orioles on one hit over the last 8 innings after replacing Whitey Ford, who retired with recurring shoulder pains after pitching the first. Ford gave up one hit.

Chuck Estrada allowed only two Yankee hits through 7 innings, but left with a pulled elbow muscle and Wilhelm took over in the 8th. Tom Tresh rapped his first pitch for a single and Coates, faking a bunt, sent a high-bouncing single up the middle for his first hit of the season.

Clete Boyer rammed into a force play, but Bobby Richardson singled in the run that broke the scoreless tie.

Johnny Temple collected both Baltimore singles, off Ford leading off the first with a pop fly that landed between Johnny Blanchard and Richardson in short right field and off Coates in the 6th. Temple also drew one of the two Oriole walks.

The Ford-Coates shutout extended Yankee pitchers' scoreless innings string to 28. Ralph Terry turned in a 5-0 victory over Cleveland Wednesday and Bill Stafford pitched a two-hitter Thursday night, beating the Indians 4-0.

Coates, winner of 5 of 7 decisions, was helped by some solid fielding in the 9th, when Roger Maris hauled down Brooks Robinson's 440-foot fly to left center after a long run and Yogi Berra backed up to the fence in left to catch a drive by Jackie Brandt.

Ray Knaub Wins 220 At Houston

Houston, Tex. (AP)—Nebraska's Ray Knaub won the 220-yard dash Friday night at the Champion of Champions track meet.

The Scottsbluff, Neb., native turned in a 21.0 to take one-tenth of a second off the meet record set last year by Dave Styron, of Southern Illinois. Homer Jones of Texas Southern won the 100 in 9.4.

Top athlete of the meet was Australian Murray Halberg who set a meet record in the 3-mile run and continued on for 5,000 meters only to fall short of the world record.

Halberg's 13:30.6 took 16 seconds off the 3-mile meet record set in 1959 by Lew Stiglitz of the U.S. Navy.

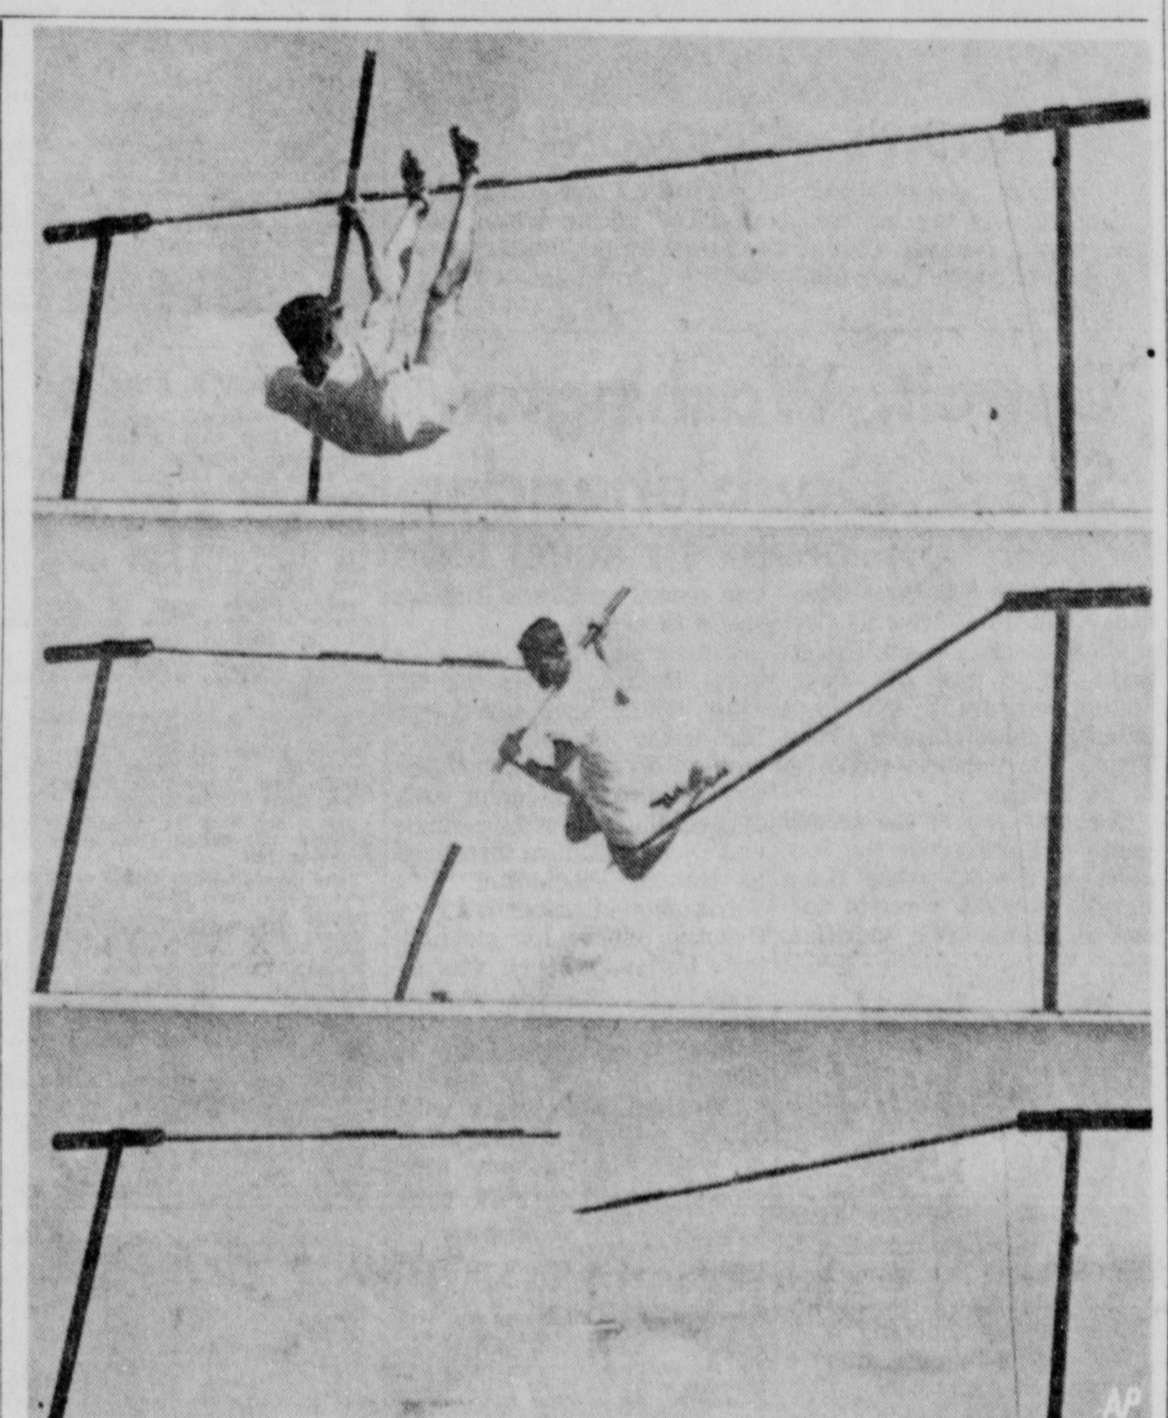

Marine Lt. Gary Weisinger, the former Duke star, had a 4:01.8 in a mile run in which John Davies of New Zealand had a 4:02.3 that also was under the mark of 4:03.4 set by Gail Hodgson of Oklahoma in 1959.

Beatty Batters Two-Mile Mark

Los Angeles (AP)—Little Jim Beatty bettered the world 2-mile record Friday night with the sensational time of 8:29.8.

The record is 8:32.0, set by Alfred Thomas of Australia, Aug. 7, 1958, in Dublin, Ireland.

Beatty, returning to action after suffering 3 different leg injuries in recent weeks, ran the race in the Southern Pacific AAU championships at Occidental College's Patterson Field.

Brand's Defense Perfect

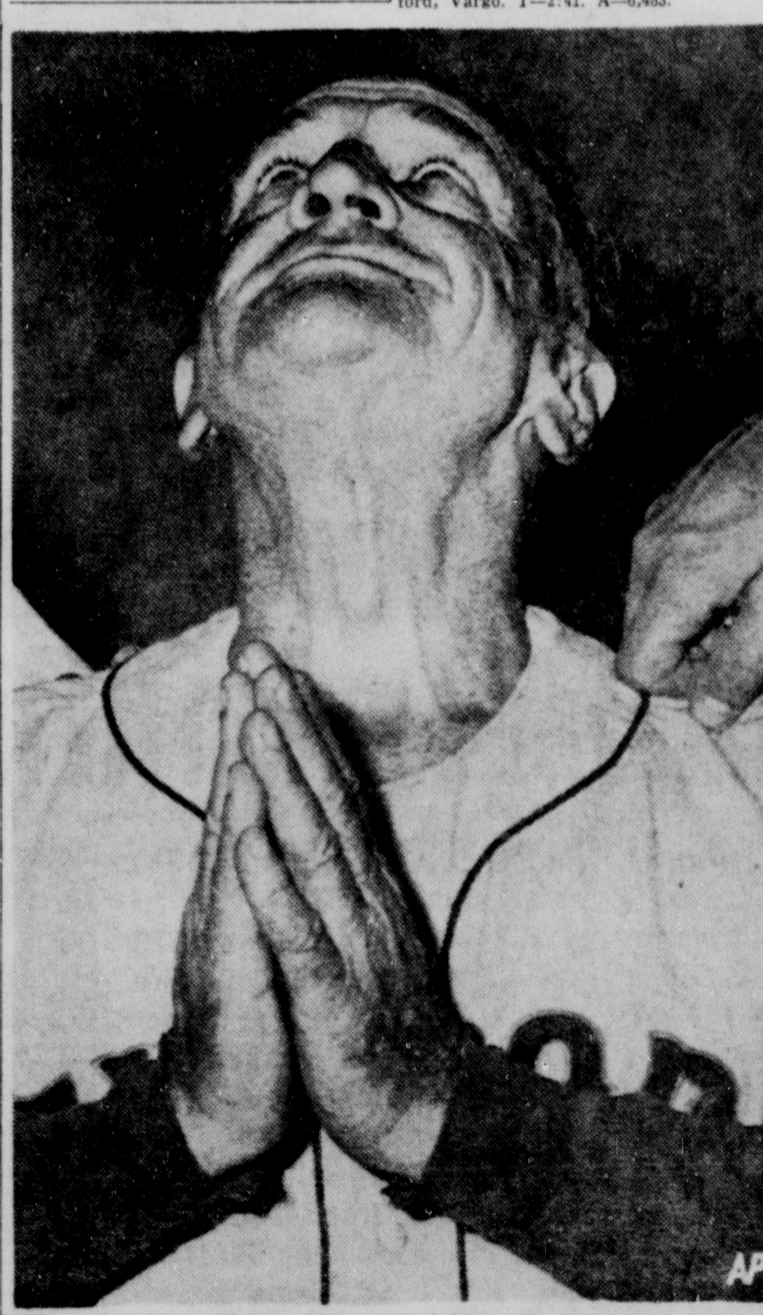

New York (AP)—The San Francisco Olympic Club, paced by two gold medal winners, successfully defended its National AAU free-style wrestling championship Friday night with a 40-37 point victory over the host New York Athletic Club.

Dan Brand of the Olympic Club, the only wrestler in the meet who successfully defended a title, took the 213.5 pound class with a perfect record to pace the club win. He is a former Nebraska U. star.

Japan made a foreign show of the meet, winning 5 of the 8 titles. The Japanese produced the outstanding wrestler, Osamu Watanabe, in the 138.5 pound division.

The national champions: 114.5 pounds—Noriyuki Harada, Japan. 125.3 pounds—Dave Auble, New York A.C. 138.5 pounds—Watanabe. 154 pounds—Kazuo Abe, Japan. 171.5 pounds—Jim Ferguson, Olympic Club. 191 pounds—Shunichi Kawano, Japan. 213.5 pounds—Brand.

Heavyweight—Jiro Seki, Japan. Seki's win was the first ever won by a Japanese overseas in the heavyweight class, where the grapplers run to 350 pounds and over. Nebraska U's Jim Raschke was 4th in that division.

Ole Casey . . . He's Thankful

Purcell, Smith Are All-Big 8

Kansas City — Nebraska placed two men on the All-Big 8 Conference baseball team selected by the schools.

Outfielder Steve Smith and Catcher Don Purcell were the Cornhuskers named.

Smith was second to Weidner in the Big 8 batting race. Missouri, the conference's representative in the upcoming College World Series at Omaha, placed 4 men on the team.

The Team: First base—Richard Fanning, Kansas. Second base—Herb Bumgarner, Kansas. Third base—George Hulett, Missouri. Shortstop—Don Wallace, Oklahoma State. Outfielder—Gale Weidner, Colorado. Outfielder—Don Reilly, Missouri. Outfielder—Steve Smith, Nebraska. Catcher—Bill Ketchum, Oklahoma State. Catcher—Don Purcell, Nebraska. Pitcher—Larry Bohannon, Missouri. Pitcher—Bobby Jenkins, Missouri. Pitcher—Jim Westervelt, Colorado.

Garret Is Handicap Champion

Doniphan (P) — Ron Garrett of Bellevue won the Nebraska Open Handicap trophy at the State Track Friday with a brilliant 98 hits out of 100 targets at 19 yards.

Garrett was 4 targets ahead of Sam Schwering Jr., Norfolk, who fired from 25 yards. Next were Warren Miller, Stratton, with a 93 at 22 yards and Charles Keenan, South Sioux City, with 93 at 23 yards.

In the Nebraska Open Singles John Voss of Omaha, Bill Johnson of Loomis and Bill Kentopp Jr., Falls City, all broke 100 of 100 targets.

Johnson then won the shoot-off by breaking 50 to 50 targets. Kentopp was 49 of 50 and Voss 21 of 25 before dropping out.

By classes in the singles the top men were:

A—Don Ewing, Omaha; Vern Robinson, Omaha; and Buford Bailey, Lincoln, 99-100. Bailey won shoot-off with 75-75.

B—E. J. Morehead, Falls City; Rex Shaner, Geneva; Tom Walters, Valentine; Ervin Christ, Fremont, 98-100.

C—Randal Parker, Hastings, 99-100.

D—O. T. Forrester, North Platte, 97-100.

The out-of-state winner was Clyde Maxwell of Shenandoah, Iowa, with 93-100.

The class doubles champions were McCole in Class A, 91-100; Delbert Wiseman, Kearney, in Class B, 88-100, and Willard Koch, Upland, in Class C, 89-100.

Gladys Pfost of Phillipsburg, Kan., took the Ladies Open with 97-100, an Mary Remus, Kawker City, Kan., made it a sweep by taking the Ladies Handicap 89-100 at 19 1/2 yards.

The Nebraska Ladies champion in the doubles was Ruth Justice of Wauweta with 99-100.

Detroit, Washington Share Doubleheader

Washington (P)—Dave Stenhouse handed Detroit its first shut-out of the season Friday night 1-0 to give the Washington Senators a split in a two-night doubleheader. The Tigers won the first game 7-6 in 10 innings.

The only run of the second game was scored by the Senators in the 8th when Ken Hamlin singled, went to second on Stenhouse's sacrifice, and scored on Chuck Hinton's single to center.

Stenhouse pitched out of a bases loaded jam in the 9th after having been saved earlier in the inning by a spectacular diving catch by Hinton in right field. Norm Cash opened the 9th with a single and Dick McAuliffe then lined to Hinton. Phil Killebrew tied the score. After Larry Osborne popped up, pinchhitter Charley Maxwell was intentionally walked, loading the bases.

Jake Wood popped up to end it.

The first game was a wild, 3 hour and 39 minute affair in which 12 pitchers were among the 38 players used.

Detroit (P)—Willie Kirschland's homer tumbled off a 6-run Cleveland 13th inning and a 15-9 victory over Boston Friday night, snapping a 4-game losing streak after a near-record marathon.

Kirkland smashed his two-run blast off loser Hal Koffield deep into the center field bleachers. Before the uprising was over, 10 Indians went to bat with Tito Francona contributing a two-run single.

The Indians, who managed to stay two games behind the American League leading Yankees, broke a string of 19 scoreless innings at the outset but blew a 6-0 lead before Francona's two-run homer in the 7th put them out front again, 9-8.

Cleveland (P)—Francoeur's homer tumbled off a 6-run Cleveland 13th inning and a 15-9 victory over Boston Friday night, snapping a 4-game losing streak after a near-record marathon.

...BOYER, WHITE, McDANIEL STAR

St. Louis (P)—Ken Boyer and Bill White each drove in 3 runs and Lindy McDaniel provided perfect relief Friday night as the St. Louis Cardinals downed the San Francisco Giants, 8-4, for their 4th straight victory.

The setback was the Giants' third in a row, matching their longest losing streak this season.

McDaniel retired the last 8 Giants in order after relieving winner Bob Gibson in a two-on situation in the seventh.

Boyer's loser Juan Marichal broke a 3-3 tie and capped a 4-run fifth inning.

White hit a solo homer, his 10th, and singled twice for his other RBI.

In the seventh, McDaniel retired dangerous Willie cisco, 8-4, for their 4th straight victory.

Kralik Is Twins' Sox Stopper

St. Paul-Minneapolis (P)—Reserve first baseman Don Mincher lined a single past second base in the last of the eighth to break up a pitcher's duel and gave the Minnesota Twins a 2-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox in the opener of a 4-game weekend series Friday night.

Mincher's blow, his first hit of the game after grounding out 3 straight times to second baseman Nellie Fox, settled a duel between the Twins' Jack Kralik and the Sox' John Buzhardt. It scored Lenny Green, who had walked earlier, from third.

The win enabled the Twins to remain one game behind New York.

Kralik allowed but 5 hits in making his record 5-4. Buzhardt, now 6-5, scattered 9 hits.

Kralik had a no-hitter for 5 1/2 innings. Luis Aparicio broke it up with a line single to center with one out in the sixth. Aparicio then stole second and scored on Floyd Robinson's triple to right center.

Yelkin: Modern Players Better

Omaha (P) — Is the college baseball player of today better than his counterpart a decade ago?

Every College World Series touches off this debate. The 1962 series does not open until Monday, but already there's a firm affirmative being voiced to the annual question.

The answer comes from Virgil Yelkin, University of Omaha athletic director and also director of the NCAA baseball classic here this year. Yelkin was named Thursday night as the NAIA — the small college counterpart of the NCAA — as its baseball Coach of the Year. Omaha fans perhaps are quicker to argue the question because they've been able to make annual comparisons of the cream of each year's collegiate baseball crop. This is the 13th straight year the NCAA series has been played in Omaha.

Yelkin says there are several reasons today's players are better. One is better coaching.

"There are more specialists," says Yelkin. "Many college graduates play pro ball and then turn to coaching."

Then says Yelkin, there is more interest in the sport, starting in high school.

The National Federation of High Schools has completed a survey, Yelkin said, which shows that on the basis of the number of high schools participating, basketball is the Number 1 prep sport followed by baseball and then football.

There has been a great growth of baseball in the 50s, and the number of schools sponsoring baseball now are at an all time high level, according to the report.

This kind of interest in the high schools gives the colleges something to build on, Yelkin notes.

He thinks improvement in today's college players is shown in all departments, though there is the greatest variation in pitching.

"Pitchers are like the big man in basketball," Yelkin observes. "You don't get a lot of them."

Professional baseball is reaping a harvest from the increasingly fertile fields of college ball, he believes. "More college players are going into pro ball."

"More and more the colleges are going to be the training ground for the professional leagues."

Frosh Track Team Distant 7th In Postal

Kansas City — Nebraska's weak freshman track forces placed 7th in the Big 8 Conference postal outdoor track meet.

Coach Frank Sevigne's Huskers scored just 15½ points.

Kansas won with a whopping 107 1-6 points while Oklahoma had 81 5-6, Colorado 80 2-3, Missouri 80 1-6, Oklahoma State 65 2-3, Kansas State 62. Iowa State had no entries.

There were two new conference freshman records. Bill Floerke of Kansas State threw the javelin 234 feet and Leander Durley of Colorado high jumped 6 feet, 10 inches.

Nebraska's point winners: Charles Meyer, 3rd in javelin at 199-4; Jim Murphy, 7th in 400 at 2:41.1; Rich Noetzel, 5th in discus at 141-2; Jim Pile, 6th in pole vault at 12-2; Harlan Kretsch, 6th in high jump at 6-6½; Mile relay team 4th at 3:20.9.

The event winners: 100 — Charles Allen, Missouri, and Preston Barley, Oklahoma, 19.8; 200 — Mutual Bryant, Oklahoma State, 21.5; 400 — Keith Morris, Colorado, 24.5; 800 — Paul Taylor, Kansas, 1:52.3; 1,600 — Harry Ray, Missouri, 4:17.4; Two-mile — Harry Ray, Missouri, 9:30.3; High hurdles — Jess Tier, Oklahoma State, 23.6; Low hurdles — Jess Tier, Oklahoma State, 22.6; 400-yard relay — Oklahoma, 4:27.7; Mile relay — Colorado, 3:16.9; Pole vault — Bill Griener, Colorado, 12-6; Javelin — Bill Floerke, Kansas State, 234-0; Shotput — Preston Smith, Oklahoma, 51-0; High jump — Leander Durley, Colorado, 6-10; Discus — Dennis Brown, Missouri, 171-10; Broad jump — Glenn Martin, Kansas.

Outlook Good For Anglers

Fishing prospects for the weekend appear to be good to excellent, according to reports received by the Game Commission.

Reservoir lakes appear to be the best bet for anglers. Many rivers and streams are still high from recent heavy rains.

Pearl colored flatfish have been the best bait trolling for trout at Lake McConaughy. Walleye from 3 to 5 pounds are being brought in at McConaughy as well as white bass. Swanson Reservoir is providing top-notch crappie fishing with minnows and jigs the best lures.

Jeffrey and Maloney reservoirs have excellent walleye fishing with up to 6-pounders at Jeffrey. Flatfish, minnows, and Colorado spinners are the top baits. Harlan County Reservoir is turning out walleye up to 6 pounds. White bass are also hitting there.

Pender, Fullmer Have NBA 'Yes'

Pittsburgh, (P) — The middleweight title-deciding fight between Gene Fullmer and Paul Pender will have the National Boxing Association's blessing after all, it turned out Friday.

Further, the NBA is "very happy" that the two title claimants will meet at Bozeman, Mont., Aug. 28, and settle the muddle. The bout originally was scheduled for June 9 but then was delayed because of a lack of a television sponsor.

Fullmer, of West Jordan, Utah, is recognized as world champion by the NBA, and Pender, of Brookline, Mass., is considered the king of the 160-pound set by New York, Massachusetts, Europe and other parts of the world.

Apparently the NBA's ruling to Fullmer last Wednesday that had he to defend his title by Aug. 5 and against Dick Tiger of Nigeria, was a result of a misunderstanding. The edict was issued by Paul Sullivan, chairman of the NBA's World Championship Committee, but without the approval of Dr. Charles P. Larson, the NBA president.

al June 9 promotion) was on with Pender. We only knew that Fullmer and Pender were supposed to meet in June — then it was called off."

"We would be very happy to see the middleweight championship settled between these guys — but we want the winner to meet the top contender within 6 months."

Larson had said in Tacoma Wednesday night: "I favor the fight between Pender and Fullmer. I don't believe any other should be arranged or even considered at this time. Mr. Sullivan took his action without consulting me or the executive committee. As far as I'm concerned, he is stating his opinion — not that of the N.B.A."

Promoter Norm Rothschild of Syracuse, N.Y., who is staging the Bozeman bout, said he was confident all along that there wouldn't be any difficulty.

Rothschild said he was sure that Fullmer would keep his promise to fight Tiger if he defeats Pender.

Doctor Who Sawed Up Girl Is Sought In Cuba, Canada

New York (UPI) — Authorities Friday turned their attention to Cuba in the hunt for a high-living doctor suspected of dismembering the body of a young college coed whose parents took her to his home for an abortion.

Sought in the international search was Dr. Harvey N. Lothringer, 41. In the sewer of his $75,000 Long Island home were found parts of the body of Barbara Lofgren, 19, a sophomore at New Rochelle (N.Y.) College.

Police said Lothringer owned a hunting lodge near Montreal, Que., and may have fled there. They were also watching his sister's home in Mexico City. A 17-state alarm was broadcast.

But the police added that he may have gone home with Cuban-born former airline stewardess Theresa Carillo, 24, who served as his receptionist and was identified as his "girlfriend."

Because of the diplomatic break between the United States and Cuba, Swiss officials, now caring for U.S. interests there, would have to conduct the search. Police were said to be considering asking the State Department to institute one through the Swiss.

U.S. Commissioner Salvatore Abruzzo late Friday signed a warrant charging Lothringer with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution. At that time the district attorney's office and FBI said they still had no leads to his whereabouts.

At the same time, Queens district attorney Frank O'Connor said that police had been watching Lothringer as a suspected member of a city-wide abortion ring.

"We were about to arrest the doctor for two other abortions," he said. "We were a day late."

Parents of the attractive coed said they paid Lothringer a $500 advance Sunday to perform an abortion on their daughter who was 4 months pregnant. They reported the girl missing the next day and police later found parts of her body in the sewer.

Her body, officers said, had been cut into 150 to 200 pieces "with painstaking thoroughness." Police said an electric saw apparently was used.

Sharp Words Wind Up Senate 'Muzzle' Probe

Washington (UPI) — The Senate investigation of alleged "muzzling" of military speeches wound up Friday with Sen. Strom Thurmond charging that Assistant Defense Secretary Arthur Sylvester has been "taken in" by communist-inspired propaganda.

Sylvester, who spent 5 hours in the witness chair at the final session, denounced the South Carolina Democrat's charge as baseless. He called it a "gratuitous insult."

The Special Armed Services subcommittee now will write a report on its 4½ months of hearings, a task expected to take several more months.

Minority Report

It appeared likely that Thurmond, whose "muzzling" charges sparked the investigation, will write his own report while most or all of the other 7 subcommittee members will sign a majority report.

At Friday's concluding hearing, Thurmond fired numerous questions at Sylvester, assistant defense secretary for public affairs, in an attempt to show that the Pentagon had not responded vigorously to what the Senator called the communist technique of "revolutionary anti-militarism."

Subcommittee Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., disassociated himself from Thurmond's remarks. Stennis said he didn't believe Thurmond intended to reflect on Sylvester's integrity.

Thurmond did not specify how he thought Sylvester had been taken in by what the Senator termed communist-inspired "anti-military" propaganda.

'Communist Garbage'

His remark came in the context of a suggestion that Sylvester had no interest in informing himself about communist publications or in taking steps to counteract them.

Sylvester said his office had "no capacity" to collect communist "garbage" and pass it on to leading military officers, including the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

He emphasized that none of a dozen or so communist publications mentioned by Thurmond were on sale in any military base.

The assistant secretary also said the communists have failed dismally to undermine the military establishment.

"It isn't rotten with communism," Sylvester declared. "There isn't a bit of undermining in it. We've got a terrific military establishment. In any military conflict, particularly with the communists, they (the Reds) are going to get clobbered."

Girl, 13, Placed On Probation For Morals Charge

A 13-year-old girl was found delinquent Friday on a morals charge and placed on probation by Lancaster Juvenile Court Judge W. W. Nuernberger.

In other determinations, the cases of two 12-year-old boys and a 14-year-old girl, charged with shoplifting, were dismissed.

A boy, 13, was released from probation for issuing fraudulent check.

Also released from probation was a 16-year-old boy, who has been found delinquent for joyriding.

Two Sentenced For Burglary

Lancaster District Judge Elmer Scheele Friday sentenced two men charged in connection with the May 17 burglary of the Cornhusker Elks Lodge 579 at 229 So. 9th.

James Lewis Harden, 22, of YMCA, was sentenced to 3 years in the State Penitentiary on the charge to which he pleaded guilty May 22.

Frederick James Sewell, 28, of 223½ No. 9th, who pleaded guilty to the charge on May 22, was sentenced to an indeterminate term of one to 3 years in the Men's Reformatory.

July 17 Set For Hearing On Reactor

Washington (AP) — An atomic Energy Commission hearing involving Nebraska's nuclear reactor was postponed Friday until July 17.

Examiner Samuel W. Jensen set the date after granting a motion for continuance offered by North American Aviation, Inc., whose Atomic International Division built the reactor for the AEC.

North American reported it expected to have the results of hot sodium circulation tests in the sodium graphite reactor submitted to the AEC's regulatory staff by July 1.

These reports then will be evaluated by the staff and the information considered when the hearing is resumed.

The hearing involves authorization of tests in use of the sodium coolant and operation of the reactor at not in excess of 15% of its full rated power of 75,000 kilowatts.

The $68 million reactor ultimately will be operated by Consumers Public Power District of Nebraska.

Case Continued In Dispute Over State Milk Law

Testimony on an injunction by the attorney general's office to make a Lincoln dairy firm comply with the state's Grade A milk law has been continued for a week to 10 days.

The state has testified that the Lincoln Dairy and Ice Cream Co. has failed to comply with a law, passed by the 1961 Legislature, requiring dairy firms to label non-Grade A milk.

The dairy company, in a counter petition, has asked the court to declare the law unconstitutional.

The firm, expected to present its case before Lancaster District Judge Paul White when the case is resumed, contends that the marking requirement is an arbitrary and unreasonable interference with business.

The firm further contends that non-Grade A products are pure and not harmful to the public health.

ARE WE INTERESTED IN A BARGAIN ON ELECTRIC DRILLS?

Frontier President Optimistic

The president of Frontier Airlines, Lewis Dymond, thinks a number of Nebraska cities which have been unable to make minimum passenger loadings will be able to do so with a year's extension of time, State Aeronautics Director James Sandstedt said.

Sandstedt said Dymond is optimistic because of local enthusiasm in cities the two men visited this week.

"The people are accepting Dymond's new program and schedules," said Sandstedt.

A Civil Aeronautics Board examiner has recommended that Alliance, Chadron, Hastings, Kearney, McCook, Imperial, Sidney and Beatrice be dropped by Frontier.

But Frontier, since it came under new management, has asked that all but Beatrice be given another year to prove they can support commercial air service.

Sandstedt said Beatrice representatives have told him they want to meet with Dymond to get him to reconsider their case. The aeronautics director said he thinks Dymond will meet with them.

In the end, though, it will be up to the Civil Aeronautics Board to decide which cities Frontier will continue to serve.
